NU Hospital Inspected . . .
Date For Closing Orthopedic Hazy

Steps Said Afoot To Move Some Services To Omaha

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Although steps apparently are being taken in preparation for a move of most of the Crippled Children's Services to Omaha, the actual date for the proposed closing of Orthopedic Hospital here has not been set.

Three officials from the U.S. Children's Bureau last week inspected the University of Nebraska Hospital at Omaha to determine whether it would be eligible to receive federal funds allocated through the state Crippled Children's Services, said the medical director, Dr. George Stafford.

No report has been received yet from that group, according to Stafford.

Any decision to close Orthopedic Hospital, operated by the State Department of Institutions, will have to be made by the Legislature which created the hospital, Institutions Director Don W. Duncan explained. No bill has been introduced into the 1969 Legislature proposing closing the hospital, he added.

Closing Recommended

However, Duncan said he told the Legislature's Budget Committee during his department's presentation about the recommendations in at least two different consultants' reports calling for the closing of Orthopedic Hospital.

Duncan has indicated that the NU College of Medicine could accept the Orthopedic patient load operation. He also has stated that the existence of orthopedic surgeons and necessary supporting services in other parts of the state mean that the Orthopedic Hospital program could be decentralized.

Orthopedic Hospital takes only children certified by the Crippled Children's clinics which offer diagnostic services throughout the state.

If Crippled Children's Services moves its patients to other hospitals, Orthopedic would have no reason to continue operation, an institutions official confirmed.

To Match Federal Money

The Crippled Children's Services, which is a part of the State Department of Welfare, uses its budget as matching money for federal funds to pay the cost of services to crippled children requiring surgery for a variety of reasons, including orthopedic, eye, and teeth problems, cleft palate, skin graft, cerebral palsy, heart problems and others.

Moving the site of medical care elsewhere is of great concern to several persons connected with Crippled Children's Services, including Walter Hampton of Chadron, chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Crippled Children.

Hampton contended that the "program will be hurt" by moving it from Orthopedic Hospital where per diem costs are about $33, compared with $50 at the NU Hospital and $78 at Children's Memorial Hospital in Omaha.

Dr Teal Voices Fear

While Dr. Frank Teal of Lincoln, an orthopedic surgeon, declared that the orthopedic program has "belonged in Omaha for years," he is afraid that all of the other services that have been offered by and at the Orthopedic Hospital will "fade away."

Hampton said "the time is not right to close" Orthopedic Hospital. He proposed a gradual phase-out so that any closing "would not interfere with children in the hospital."

He also asked that plans for taking care of the children referred from the Crippled Children's Services' 26 clinics in the state be fully reviewed before any decision to close the hospital is made.

Questions Unresolved

According to State Welfare Director Robert McManus, questions about handling the out-patient clinics conducted in Lincoln at the hospital for orthopedic patients and designating new places for specific parts of the program have not been resolved in the event the hospital is closed.

"Discussions with the NU Medical Center and considerations about moving parts of the program are in purely exploratory stages," McManus emphasized.

He said he has not been involved in any decision to close the hospital. However, he added, there is nothing in the proposed closing plan that would change the function of the outstate clinics.

Some Wymore Graves Have Two Flags On Memorial Day

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Wymore — Not one, but two American flags will mark some graves around this town on Memorial Day.

In a unique tradition, members of the Wymore Volunteer Fire Department will again honor more than 100 departed comrades who have answered their last big call. Since many were also servicemen, they will thus be accorded double tribute.

The flags are attached to distinctive markers, which are left in place the year around. Embodies in the "WVFD" design are appropriate symbols of the fireman: a crossed ladder and pole pike, a helmet and axe, an encircling fire hose.

"We know some markers have been there 30 years and there's no telling how much longer," said Harold (Shorty) Campbell, rural mail carrier in his 11th year as volunteer chief. "We've searched our minutes for decades back, but can't find how or when the custom started."

The chief and his assistant, retailer Wilbur Henderson, believe Wymore is the only town in the state with such a tradition. Its 31 volunteers will be observing the department's 80th anniversary next year.

In all, more than 300 flags are set each Memorial Day by the firemen and American Legion. Most are in the Wymore and adjacent Calvary (Catholic) cemeteries. Graves of veterans and firemen also are marked, however, in the Blue Springs, Welsh and Mission Creek cemeteries.

"There are a few new graves each year," said Campbell. "A Beatrice foundryman cast us 100 more markers recently, so we hope they last us for a good long time."

Postal Corporation Asked; Congress' Reaction Chilly

Washington (UPI) — President Nixon Tuesday proposed taking the postal system out of politics and chronic debt and putting it in the hands of an independent, government-owned corporation. The initial response in Congress was chilly.

The President warned that higher postal rates, growing deficits and worsening delays and breakdowns in mail service were inevitable unless Congress approves his plan, first advanced two years ago in the Johnson administration.

But influential legislators, including Rep. Thaddeus J. Dulski, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Post Office Committee, showed no signs they were ready to surrender congressional control of postal service to an independent corporation.

Under Nixon's plan, the cabinet-level Post Office Department would be abolished and a United States Postal Service similar to the Tennessee Valley Authority would be created to handle the mail.

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount said the system, currently running an annual deficit of more than $1 billion, could be self-supporting within five years if run on a business-like basis. Nixon said that to continue to pour tax money into an inefficient system was "bad business, bad government and bad politics."

The proposed new service would be run by a nonpartisan, nine-member board of directors. Seven, including the chairman, would be chosen by the President subject to congressional approval. The board would select a full-time chief executive officer and chief operating officer.

A separate panel of expert rate commissioners would review and recommend changes in postal classes and rates for decision by the service board. Rate changes would go into effect in 60 days unless vetoed by Congress.

Continuation of any present mail privileges for special groups, such as veterans, would have to be subsidized by Congress.

The corporation would be authorized to issue bonds for expansion and modernization of the postal system, which would cost an estimated $5 billion.

The plan would make final Nixon's effort to remove the Post Office from political influence. He already has set up the machinery to eliminate much of the traditional system of political appointments to fill postmaster and rural letter carrier vacancies.

Bradley Has 44% Of Votes Tallied

. . . Million In L.A. Cast Ballots

Los Angeles (AP) — Two-term incumbent Sam Yorty, hoping to confound the pollsters, clung to a dwindling lead over Councilman Thomas Bradley in slow counting of returns Tuesday night from a record turnout in the non-partisan mayor runoff election.

About one million votes were cast. The city has 1,127,244 registered voters.

Bradley, 51, attempting to become the first Negro mayor of the nation's third most populous city, ran 100,000 ahead of Yorty in the April 1 primary and the polls had showed him holding a margin. The Negro population here is between 15 and 20%.

Returns from 765 of 2,890 precincts, including the absentees, gave Yorty 125,998, or 56%, to 99,045, or 44% for Bradley.

Early Lead

Yorty, 59, running on his record over the past eight years, jumped off to an early lead on the basis of the first-counted absentees, where he had been expected to lead. His margin there was 10,247 to 6,691.

Bradley cut into that margin with every subsequent report.

Bradley voted early, shook hands with some children and left.

After Yorty voted, he told reporters "I think we're going to win it." Then he returned to his office to "catch up" on work.

Bradley sought to become the third Negro elected mayor of a major city in the United States, joining Richard Hatcher of Gary, Ind., and Carl Stokes of Cleveland, Ohio.

Both Demos

Both Bradley and Yorty are Democrats. But most party leaders supported Bradley. Yorty, proud of his reputation as the "maverick mayor," alienated many of them with his hawkish views on foreign policy and his refusal to support John F. Kennedy for president in 1960 and former Gov. Edmund G. Brown for governor in 1966. (Yorty is a former Lincoln resident.)

Yorty banked on a heavy voter turnout in the predominantly white suburbs of the San Fernando Valley and the harbor area. He sent thousands of precinct workers into the streets in an election day get out the vote campaign. Bradley mounted a similar effort.

The campaign focused on two main issues. Yorty, declaring his record warranted re-election, charged that Bradley was supported by black militants and anti-police elements.

Bradley denied it. He countered by saying Yorty's administration was corrupt.

Self-Defense Bill Will Be Vetoed

. . . Tiemann Has Objections

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Norbert Tiemann will veto legislation giving citizens unlimited authority to use "any means necessary" to protect themselves and their property, it was learned Tuesday from reliable sources.

Tiemann will outline his objections to the bill in a veto message which will be delivered to the Legislature Wednesday, it was understood.

The measure, LB925, cleared the Legislature Monday on a 33-8 vote.

30 Votes Needed

Thirty votes would be required to override the governor's veto — but supporters of the bill are expected to have great difficulty in mustering the necessary number.

One previous Tiemann veto was sustained earlier this year even though the bill, directing the suspension of any college student found guilty of possession of marijuana, had attracted 34 votes on final reading.

Tiemann is expected to present his veto of LB925 to the lawmakers Wednesday so they may act on a possible motion to override before they leave later in the day for a five-day Memorial Day weekend recess.

Batchelder Bill

LB925 was chiefly authored by Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha, whose wife Anne is Republican national committeewoman for Nebraska.

Sixteen senators voted in favor of an unsuccessful effort to soften the impact of the bill before it received final approval. Four of the eight lawmakers who voted against the measure hailed from Lancaster County.

The crux of the bill is contained in a single sentence:

"No person in this state shall be placed in legal jeopardy of any kind whatsoever for protecting, by any means necessary, himself, his family or his real or personal property, or when coming to the aid of another who is in imminent danger of or the victim of aggravated assault, armed robbery, holdup, rape, murder or any other heinous crime."

One opponent of the proposal, Sen. Richard Proud of Omaha, labeled the bill as "an invitation to murder."

The effort to override Tiemann's previous veto fell five votes short on a 25-21 count.

Rep. Mills Outlines Tax Reform Plans

Washington (UPI) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills said Tuesday Congress' first attempt at serious tax reform in 15 years tentatively calls for taxing some of the income of foundations, churches and social groups.

For the individual, he said, deductions for hobby farms will be decreased and unlimited deductions for charitable contributions eliminated.

Mills, D-Ark., whose chairmanship of the House Ways and Means Committee makes him Congress' No. 1 taxwriter, said the proposals he disclosed still were subject to final committee action, but that he hoped to win House passage of them and other reforms before Congress' month-long vacation starting Aug. 13.

The tentative proposals, he said, would narrow or close tax write-offs in six major areas: Bonds used in financing conglomerate business mergers; tax-free foundations; business income of tax-exempt organizations such as churches and social clubs; charitable deductions; farm losses by persons who use them to offset other taxable income: multiple business corporations used to reduce taxation.

Moving Expenses

In a seventh area, the committee said that present prohibitions against deducting moving expenses in connection with job transfers had been liberalized under the tentative conclusions.

As for foundations, the committee tentatively agreed to impose a 5% tax on the investment income of foundations — the first tax ever imposed on more than 30,000 foundations including the multimillion dollar Ford, Rockefeller, Mellon and Carnegie organizations.

The committee has been considering tax reform legislation since Feb. 18. It started writing its bill in closed session April 29.

When the committee returns Monday from the Memorial Day recess, Mills said, it will consider other tax reform proposals, including deductions allowed for oil exploration, benefits from capital gains sales of stock and other property and plans to eliminate two million poor people from tax rolls.

The committee also plans to take up President Nixon's proposals to extend the 10% income tax surcharge at that rate from June 30, when it is now due ot expire, until Jan. 1, 1970.

Coupled with that proposal is Nixon's plan to repeal the 7% investment tax credit for industrial expansion — a "subsidy" of more than $3 billion annually for business investment.

Lincoln Crash Kills Philadelphia Judge

Edward Griffiths, a municipal judge in Philadelphia, Pa., was identified Tuesday as the person who died as a result if injuries suffered Monday evening in a two-car collision at 10th and A.

Authorities said Griffiths, a passenger in a car driven by his daughter, Miss Ann Louise Griffiths, 27, died of multiple internal injuries.

The Griffiths were returning home from vacationing in San Antonio, Tex.

Listed in fair condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital were the judge's wife, Elizabeth, 57, and their daughter.

The Griffiths car was in collision with an automobile driven by Mary Graham, 19, of 4829 Aylesworth.

Miss Graham was hospitalized for observation and was reported in fairly good condition Tuesday.

Police said the Griffiths car was northbound on 10th and the Graham car was eastbound on A.

After the collision, the Griffiths car came to rest against a tree.

Poher Calls For 'Renovated Atlantic Alliance'

(C) New York Times News Service

Paris—French presidential candidate Alain Poher issued a 5,000-word policy platform that placed heavy emphasis on the need for "collective action" by allied governments in virtually every field. Poher called for a "renovated Atlantic Alliance."

Hanoi Feeling Strain

Washington — American officials cited new evidence that North Vietnam is feeling the strain of heavy casualties in the South and is turning to a less flamboyant military strategy. North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh was reported recently to have asked commanders to "economize human and material resources."

Italian Postal Workers Strike

Rome — Informed sources in Rome predicted that it would be "at least a month" before Italy recovered from a new three-day postal workers' strike, which is but one in a half-dozen public service workers' stoppages now crippling that country. The strikers demanded bureaucratic reform in Italian public administration.

Postal Change Asked

Washington — In an attempt to avert "the steady deterioration of this vital public service," President Nixon asked Congress to convert the Post Office Department into a government-owned but self-sustaining corporation with only limited congressional control. (More on Page 1.)

Tax Reforms Outlined

Washington —The House Ways and Means Committee released a progress report on its work on tax reform, which included an extensive clampdown on the activities of the tax exempt foundation. The committee also tentatively agreed on a half-dozen other reform items. (More on Page 1.)

Hundreds Greet Astronauts

Houston — Several hundrer people, including the crew's families, space agency officials, many fellow astronauts and a kilted Air Force band, greeted the Apollo 10 astronauts on their return to Houston. The men are scheduled for 10 days of debriefings to help the next crew prepare for a lunar landing. (More on Page 2.)

House Refuses To Back Down

Washington — The House overrode Nixon administration wishes and refused to back down on clamping a $20,000 limit on subsidies paid to any one farm Stunned by earlier tentative approval by the House of the limitation, the administration had sent liason men to Capitol Hill in hopes of persuading the House to reverse itself.

Drug Firm Keeps Reports Secret

Washington — Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin said a major drug firm kept secret, for almost 10 years, research reports casting doubt on the usefulness of one of its best-selling drugs. The drug is a fixed combination of two antibiotics sold under the trade name Panalba by the Upjohn Company.

Cranston Urging Change

Washington — Freshman Sen. Alan Cranston of California introduced a resolution in the Senate that would have the United States extend diplomatic recognition without implying acceptance of a foreign government's ideology or policy. Cranston's suggestion received substantial bipartisan support.

Apollo 10 Astronauts Given Hero's Welcome

Space Center, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 10 astronauts returned home Tuesday from their moon scouting adventure and immediately began recording the lunar knowledge they obtained to prepare the Apollo 11 crew for a moon landing.

After a hero's welcome the astronauts began recounting their experiences on the eight-day flight that took Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan to within 9.4 miles of the moon's surface.

Stafford, Young and Navy Cmdr. John W. Young will spend 11 days talking into tape recorders and reviewing every step of their flight.

Cut Risks

The Apollo 11 crew, scheduled to attempt a moon landing in July, must have the data and recollections of Stafford, Cernan and Young to cut the risks of their flight.

Without the Apollo 10 experience, officials have said, a moon landing would be too risky to attempt.

Apollo 11's launch is now scheduled for July 16, but officials said a final decision on the date will not be made for two or three weeks. They said the flight may be delayed until August if questions arise in training the Apollo 11 crew because of the knowledge gained on Apollo 10.

World News

"Boy," Young told the welcoming crowd at Ellington Air Force Base, "this moon is really peculiar and interesting, very strange. It's a very different kind of a satellite and I think we learned a great deal about what's going on up there."

He added: "that moon doesn't have any air and that moon's not Texas, and we sure are glad to be here."

Lincolnite In Force

The Navy reports that Seaman Edward E. Taylor Jr., son of Mrs. William L. Lang of Lincoln, is serving aboard the communications relay ship USS Arlington, a part of the task force for the manned flight of Apollo 10.

Cernan called his eight days in space "the most incredible of my life and probably the most incredible I'll ever expect to live." He praised the team at the Houston Manned Spacecraft Center, calling it "the greatest team assembled in the history of mankind."

"It's because of them that we were able to have such a fantastic mission," he said. "And it's because of them that we're able to come back here to you today and say it's great to be back."

Ran Down Ramp

Wearing the crisp blue overalls and sporty caps they donned after landing in the Pacific Monday, the astronauts ran down the ramp of an Air Force transport into the arms of their families.

While an Air Force band serenaded them with "Up, Up and Away," other astronauts and space officials welcomed back the three men.

"I'm convinced now more than ever," Cernan told the welcoming crowd at Ellington Air Force Base. "That there's no place that we can't eventually go, and there's nothing that we can't eventually do because of the talent that we've got in this great country of ours."

Cernan, Stafford and Young had flown 12 hours non-stop from American Samoa and looked rested and spirited. The men had landed from space Monday in the South Pacific 400 miles from Pago Pago.

ROCKEFELLER REPORTS . . . to President Nixon.

Economic Subcommittee Accuses Pentagon Of 'Wasteful Practices'

Washington (AP) — A House-Senate economic subcommittee accused the military Tuesday of wasteful purchasing practices it says have artificially inflated the budget and lined the pockets of defense contractors

And the subcommittee said it is disturbed by evidence that the Pentagon considers "cost control as an antisocial activity."

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., the subcommittee chairman, in remarks accompanying the report, spoke of "the absence of effective controls over the procurement of weapons systems and the existence of questionable practices in the Department of Defense."

Pentagon Agrees

Pentagon officials promptly replied they agree with much of the highly critical report. And they said the Nixon administration is overhauling procedures for purchasing weapons systems.

In its conclusion, the report said:

"The evidence is convincing that procurement expenditures can be substantially reduced without diminishing national security."

"In the past, literally billions of dollars have been wasted on weapons systems that have had to be canceled because they did not work," the subcommittee said. "Other systems have performed far below contract specifications."

Vast Subsidy

"The result of the absence of effective cost controls, coupled with a number of policies and practices discussed in this report, has resulted in a vast subsidy for the defense industry, particularly the larger contractors," the bipartisan subcommittee said.

Students Protest Rockefeller Visit

Bogota, Colombia (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller began the second phase of his Latin American fact-finding mission for President Nixon here Tuesday. He got a cool reception from citizens at the airport and student protests against the visit erupted in four cities.

"I bring no advice, but I come to get it," the New York governor said in remarks delivered in Spanish to his greeting party at the airport. They were led by foreign minister Alfonso Lopez Michelsen, who offered warm official greetings.

"What I bring is more than 30 years of deep interest and affection for Latin America and respect for the human dignity, liberty and social justice," Rockefeller said.

Several Hundred

Several hundred persons had gathered at the airport to witness his arrival from Washington. The crowd remained silent and made no response when Rockefeller saluted them with raised arms.

The governor and his aides motored into the city where he held his first of four scheduled working meetings with President Carlos Lleras Restrepo. The motorcade diverted from its expected route, which would have taken it past the scene of student-police clashes on the university campus.

The governor saw none of the disorders between students and police in the capital city, which had ended temporarily under a curtain of rain at the time of Rockefeller's arrival and then started up again in the evening.

15 Injured

At least 15 persons, including eight policemen were injured in the anti-U.S. disorders in Bogota. Here and in Barranquilla, demonstrators burned U.S. flags, hanged Rockefeller in effigy and then burned the effigies. Less serious disturbances were reported in Cali.

In Monteria, students burned two cars and police reported several of their men hospitalized with burns from acid hurled by the demonstrators.

Students in Bogota posted anti-U.S. slogans on walls and distributed anti-American literature. In Barranquilla, they stoned the Colombian-American cultural center an burned a city bus.

Committees Named

The government of President Carlos Lleras Restrepo, a supporter of the U.S. Alliance for Progress, readied 10 committees, each headed by a cabinet member, to meet with Rockefeller's aides and outline the country's problems and needs.

Demos Propose Excess Profits Tax

Washington (UPI) — A bill cosponsored by 15 leading Democrats was introduced in the Senate Tuesday that would impose an excess war profits tax on U.S. industry for the duration of the Vietnam war.

"It has been the consistent avowed policy of this nation to see that no one makes unrealistic profits from war, while thousands of our young men are dedicating an important part of their lives and inconsequential pay," said Sen. George S. McGovern.

McGovern, a leading opponent of the war, proposed the bill. He was joined by 14 other Democrats as co-sponsors, including Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

McGovern's bill would tax "excess" profits at an 85 per cent rate. The determination of what was "excess" would be made by comparing a firm's profits with what it made in the four years before the 1965 buildup in Vietnam or under a complex formula based on invested capital.

Sponsors of the measure estimated the tax would produce from $9.5 to $10 billion a year, the same revenue the government expects from the income tax surcharge.

McGovern said his 85% tax rate for "excess" profits compared with a 90% rate imposed during World War II and from 77 to 79% imposed on business during the Korean War.

Under his bill, corporations with excess profits under $25,000 a year would be exempt from its provisions and special relief would be provided companies experiencing hardship or extreme growth from war demands.

For '69 and '70

McGovern's bill specifically covered the 1969 and 1970 tax years, but it provided for an earlier end if the war ended or extension if the war continued beyond the two years it covered.

McGovern said after-tax corporate profits have gone up 33% since the Vietnam buildup in 1965. He said corporate profits reached a high of $51 billion in 1968, compared to $33.1 billion for 1963.

Claiming defense contractors were enjoying unparalleled growth and profits, McGovern said General Dynamics showed a 22% increase in profits in 1966-67 compared with 1963-65. He said for the same period General Electric showed 21.7% higher profits, United Aircraft 56%, and Boeing 65%.

Agreement Is Reached On Cigarette Warning

Washington (UPI) — The House Commerce Committee tentatively agreed Tuesday to recommend strengthening the health warning on cigarette packages, but rejected a move to require the warning in advertising.

Committee members said the stronger package warning was adopted by a narrow 15-to-14 vote, but the advertising warning failed by about 18 to 7. Both actions will be subject to revision until a final draft bill is approved.

Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., who offered the amendment to require a health warning in all cigarettes promotion, declared after the executive session that "the battle will be fought out on the House floor."

Reports from the session described the package warning tentatively approved as somewhat stronger than the present one, but far short of the strong declaration the federal trade commission has proposed.

The committee warning would state that the surgeon general has determined cigarette smoking is hazardous to health and is casually connected with lung cancer.

The FTC would require a warning also stating that cibarette smoking "is hazardous to helath," but it would add that smoking "may cause death" from lung cancer and certain other diseases.

Members said the word death was not included in the version adopted by the Commerce Committee.

The present warning reads: "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

Members of the committee indicated there was little prospect of a change of heart that would require warnings in radio and television commercials or printed advertising.

Swine Center Dedication Set

. . . July 1 At Concord Station

Concord — An open house, brief speaking program and free barbecue will feature the dedication of the newly-completed swine research center at the University of Nebraska Northeast Station here July 1.

This word comes from Robert Fritschen, area swine specialist, and Cal Ward, station superintendent, following a planning meeting which included representatives of area swine producers groups, the Northeast Experimental Farm Association, and the NU Animal Science Department.

Adkins To Speak

Richard Adkins of Osmond, University of Nebraska Regent and an active force in bringing the project to reality, will be the main speaker at a short program following a free pork barbecue at 6 p.m. Dick Sorenson of Wayne, vice president of the Nebraska Pork Producers Association and president of the Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers Association, will represent the various groups behind the drive to secure the facilities, in making preliminary remarks.

Early arrivals at the station, a short distance east of Concord, may inspect the facilities prior to the barbecue. Tours also will be available following the speaking program, before dark.

The research center consists of six growing-finishing houses being used in studies on confinement rearing of swine, and a small office-headquarters structure. Three units are enclosed, environment-controlled, while the other three are open front units.

The construction project was an inter-disciplinary effort within the university according to Fritschen, with the Agricultural Engineering Department being responsible for plans involving tilt-up construction, various combinations of insulated walls, heating and ventilation systems.

The dedication culminates a 3-year effort in which the swine industry and agribusiness interests in northeast Nebraska have contributed substantial funds, supplementing available University capital construction allocations.

Brown Spiders Found On NU East Campus, Conveniently Near Entomology Department

Are there really poisonous brown recluse spiders in Nebraska?

You'd better believe it! And they couldn't have picked a better way of establishing the fact.

James K. Gleason of 6259 Francis, Lincoln, a student employee, found several of them setting up housekeeping in an old building on the University of Nebraska East Campus within easy walk of the Entomology Department.

Gleason had noticed the spiders for several days while moving boxes of printed materials. He had heard of the brown recluse — and then he read a story about the bugs.

Suspicious, he captured one in a glass jar and, sure enough, there was the "fiddle" marking on its head.

Robert Roselle, Extension entomologist, confirmed the identification.

The brown recluse, unlike its black widow relative, has not been considered well established in Nebraska and not likely to become abundant statewide because it is susceptible to cold weather, Roselle said.

The brown recluse is a timid spider, hence its name, he said. It is usually found around houses and other buildings, however, and when caught in clothing and squeezed can inflict a painful bite, he said.

Other spiders normally found around houses and buildings, such as the wolf spider and funnel web spider, are not dangerous and do not have the "fiddle" mark on their heads, Roselle said.

Specimens have been identified from several southern Nebraska counties during the past year, he said.

The first one on record was found in Richardson County in 1960.

Police Took Their Clothing?

Cruitiba, Brazil (AP) — Police picked up five nude men walking along a main highway.

The men said they had been picked up earlier by other police and questioned about a robbery.

When they failed to confess, they said, the police dropped them along the highway without their clothes.

Omahan Is Hurt In 2-Car Accident At 56th, Fremont

A 46-year-old Omaha man was listed in "critical condition" at Bryan Memorial Hospital early Wednesday morning after being injured in a car accident Tuesday morning, police said.

Robert V. Eades was northbound on 56th St. when the car he was driving came in collision with a car driven by Francis M. Young, 33, 2139 No. 67th, at the 56th and Fremont.

Police said Young was taken to Bryan also, but is listed in "good condition."

Bricklayers Reach Wage Hike Accord

The local bricklayers union reported Tuesday that it had reached an agreement with the Building and Construction Employers Association.

Dick Johnson, spokesman for the bricklayers, said the craft union had agreed to a wage hike of $1.85 over three years.

The pay increase would be enacted in five steps: 50 cents when the agreement is formally concluded "in the next day or so"; 15 cents Sept. 1; 50 cents April 1, 1970; 20 cents Sept. 1, 1970, and 50 cents April 1, 1971.

The bricklayers' current hourly wage is $4.70, Johnson said.

Operating engineers, laborers, painters, carpenters and sheet metal workers remain on strike.

Lincoln construction brought nearly to a standstill by the nearly two-month-old strike includes the downtown YMCA Building, the University of Nebraska chemistry and music buildings, the 15th St. mall and the new Post Office.

Retirement Dinner Honors Mrs. Leopold, Prof. Baragar

Two longtime University of Nebraska faculty members were honored at a retirement dinner, given by the Department of Family Economics and Management, Tuesday evening.

Honored were Mrs. Clara N. Leopold, Extension home management specialist, and Arnold Baragar, professor of family economics and management who will retire from NU in July.

Mrs. Leopold

Prof. Baragar

Dr. Virginia Trotter, associate dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics and director of the School of Home Economics, and Agnes Arthaud, assistant director of the Cooperative Extension Service, paid tribute to the two home economics staff members for their years of service to NU and the state.

Mrs. Leopold and Prof. Baragar also received centennial medallions from the group.

Mrs. Leopold joined the NU staff in 1937. She has become known to men and women throughout the state for her work as Extension home management specialist.

To NU In 1929

Prof. Baragar came to NU in 1929, serving as an instructor in physics from 1929 until 1931 when he joined the College of Agriculture faculty as an instructor in home economics.

He has been responsible for numerous papers, circulars and publications in the home equipment field.

Ong, Lexington Youths Receive $500 Stipends

Omaha (AP) — The Federal Land Bank of Omaha and its 77 federal land bank associations in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming, have announced the awarding of eight $500 scholarships to midwestern high school seniors.

Nebraskans receiving the awards are Kenneth Leon Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Anderson of Ong, and Dean Clyde Batie, son of Mrs. Julia Mae Batie of Lexington.

Worker Caught Between Railroad Cars Fatally Hurt

Grand Island (AP) — A railroad worker died early Tuesday after he was caught between cars at the Union Pacific's Grand Island yards.

A UP spokesman said A. L. Kelsey, 40, of Grand Island was coupling cars at the rear end of a train when some of the cars became unconnected.

The uncoupled cars moved against others and Kelsey was caught between them. The railroad said both Kelsey's legs and his left arm were severed. He died in a Grand Island hospital.

Accident Fatal To Omaha Girl

Omaha (AP) — An Omaha girl died in a hospital early Tuesday of injuries suffered about midnight in an accident in Elmwood Park.

Police said 18-year-old Sherry Lorraine Smith was a passenger on a motorcycle driven by John McGarraugh, 26, Omaha.

Hospital attendants said McGarraugh was in critical condition.

Officers said the accident occurred on the Elmwood Park golf course. The report said the motorcycle went into a ravine and struck the bank.

CD Directors Meeting Set

Ft. Robinson (UPI) — At least 60 directors are expected for the annual spring conference of the Nebraska Civil Defense Directors Association here June 7-8.

Coordinator for the two-day event is Dawes County civil defense director Robert Zeman of Chadron.

One of the main speakers will be Evar R. Peterson, of Long Beach, Calif., the president of the U.S. Civil Defense Council.

The other featured speaker will be Maj. Gen. Lyle Welch, president of the National Association of State Civil Defense Directors. Welch is also Nebraska civil defense director and head of the state National Guard.

Iowa City Propane Tank Explodes

Iowa City, Iowa (UPI) — A propane gas tank located just outside the downtown Iowa City core area exploded Tuesday night and all city fire trucks and rescue units were sent to the scene.

There was no information of any possible injuries.

Authorities said three ammonia tanks nearby were in danger of exploding and they said there would be no way to keep the tanks cool.

Authorities said all persons in a 4½ block area were being evacuated.

The propane gas tank was at the Capitol Propane Gas Co., Iowa City, which is located in a storage area of the firm's property.

Crash Kills 10

Manila (UPI) — Ten persons were killed and 15 others injured Tuesday when a bus crashed into the rear of a commuter jeep in San Fernando, about 185 miles north of Manila, the Philippine News Service reported. The jeep was specially built and was capable of carrying up to 30 persons.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

New members of the City Council received a good initiation at their first formal meeting Monday. It was not one of the biggest days of the year as city affairs go but it had its share of conflict and interesting subjects.

The council, for instance, had two vetoes by the mayor to consider, overriding one and letting the other stand. That's a 50 per cent batting average by Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf, which isn't bad in the league in which he's playing.

It's a league with some mighty tough rules. The mayor can veto an ordinance but it takes only a simple majority of the City Council to override that veto. That means just four votes and that is not always too hard to muster, particularly when the issue has already been considered and affirmatively decided by the council.

Of as much importance as anything on the Monday program was a proposal from County Commissioner William Grossman to use the old Lincoln General Hospital for a county care home. His idea is one that is likely to give the city a few sleepless nights.

Grossman is in the enviable position of having everyone against him except the people. The average citizen seems convinced that the old hospital ought to be converted into a care home. Incidentally, they use the terms "care home" and "nursing home" interchangeably when they are two quite different things.

A nursing home is a much higher level of operation than a care home. The former is for people who need considerable attention while the latter covers those who are pretty well independent but simply need a place to live.

The vital need today is for nursing home space. Care home beds would be of some help but with that alone, the county would still have a lot of problems and would still be looking for nursing home beds, which it might well provide through an addition to its present convalescent home near old Lincoln General.

Grossman has a contractor who will remodel the old hospital, partly for a care home operation and partly for an undisclosed use of his own choosing. But the deal calls for a free lease to the contractor of the old hospital who, in turn, would lease the care home facilities free to the county.

Thus, the thing all boils down to the county's getting free care home facilities, something the average citizen is likely to look at as a pretty good deal. He always thought the hospital would make a good home and now that it can be provided free of cost, he is more convinced than ever.

It may be a good deal, too, but it will require a lot of looking by the City Council and the administration of the hospital. Quite frankly, we believe the hospital would much prefer to have the area for use as additional parking space.

Beyond that, the city will have to determine if the deal offered by the contractor is as good as it looks on the surface. The property in question does represent an asset to the hospital and should not be disposed of for a long period of time for a price that would represent a poor return for the owners.

To remodel the newer part of the old hospital would cost the contractor an estimated $320,000. That, then, can be figured as the price the contractor is paying for the property, part of which he would use for his own benefit. Presumably, the contractor would have a long-term lease on the old hospital building and land, not ownership of it.

What the city faces is a determination of just what use the new Lincoln General would make of the property if it is not concerted to outside uses. This need, then, would have to be weighed against value received from the property and its need as a care home.

The county, it seems, would want to make very sure that new care home facilities would satisfy the demand it has for housing of the elderly. In the whole deal, of course, the city and Lincoln General face the prospect of giving something of considerable value to the county and we are not so sure the two would be that big-hearted.

'Self-Defense' Bill

We commend Gov. Tiemann for vetoing Omaha Sen. Clifton Batchelder's LB925, passed by the Legislature on a 33-8 vote Monday, which authorizes citizens to use "any means necessary" in defending themselves from felonious attack.

The bill removes from a person legal jeopardy — it gives him a legal defense — for protecting by any means necessary, including killing, himself, his family or his real or personal property, or when coming to the aid of another who is in imminent danger of or the victim of a heinous crime.

Whereas Batchelder says the bill is intended to "give people the gumption to stand up and defend themselves," and that it removes any doubt that citizens are armed with the right of self-defense; and while Sen. Terry Carpenter talks blandly about how it might not be so bad to shoot a few crooks, we agree with Sen. Richard Proud that the bill could be "an invitation to murder."

As interpreted by some people who have very strong notions about the concept of law and order, it could mean you could shoot someone for kicking the tires on your car. It would give some people an excuse to shoot whenever they thought there was imminent danger of a crime being committed.

Much more preferable was Proud's proposal to authorize only the use of "any reasonable means" necessary to protect person or property. That amendment was defeated on a 16-24 vote.

Law-enforcement officials apparently feel that Batchelder's bill would not be abused by citizens and we are riding the hightide in favor of law-and-order measures at present. A great many people undoubtedly feel the law would help stop violent crimes, so it was probably a politically unpopular act for the governor to veto the bill. We are thankful he looked wiser and longer interest and vetoed a bad law passed by the Legislature.

Cutting Down Big Farmer

The House, at least temporarily, has settled on a $20,000 limit on federal payments to any one farmer for recommended land retirement practices. The move may have some popular appeal but that is about all that can be said for it

A lot has been made of the big farmer, mostly in the South and Southwest, who gets a $1 million land-retirement payment from the government. But the point is that this farmer, for his payment, is taking thousands of acres of land out of production.

If he is not paid for land retirement, he will not join the program and will return his land to whatever most profitable use he can make of it. In some cases, this will be former cotton farmers who will plant their land to soybeans, corn, wheat or other feed grains that will compete in the market place for Nebraska crops.

If enough big land-holders put enough of their land back into production, the price of feed grains and other farm products may take a big dip downward. If they do, the government would be stuck with its loan and support price for all the crops grown in compliance with acreage allotments. Thus, the limitation on size of payments could cost the government much more than it will save.

It might not happen that way, of course. The farmer who finds he is losing his land-retirement payments may see that he cannot economically produce anything on the land. But this is not the usual pattern of things. The usual pattern is to make unproductive land productive and we suspect that is exactly what will be done by the farmer who loses his retirement pay. If so, that will mean the effective end of the farm program.

Okinawa And The Japanese

TOKYO — Okinawa is a general's dream; it could not be better if Curt LeMay himself had selected the site and arranged the conditions. Within a radius of 1,700 miles, existing American aircraft can reach any Asian nation with which the United States has a security agreement, including Thailand, and could also cover every important area of mainland China; yet, unlike Taiwan, Okinawa is far enough out to sea to give its defenders sufficient "reaction time" against attack from China or Korea. With no mountains, industrial smoke, or snow, and almost never any fog, Okinawa also affords the best flying conditions in the Pacific. It has even better deep-water ports than the home islands of Japan, and because the U.S. took administrative control of Okinawa after World War II, there are no legal restrictions on the military operations that can be launched from this remarkable base.

No wonder, then, that the American military think Okinawa is the greatest thing since Hannibal discovered the elephant. American control of the island is, nevertheless, a political time bomb ticking away at the heart of the Japanese-American security arrangement, which in turn is the central pillar of the U.S. position in the Pacific and East Asia.

For that reason, the military may well have to relinquish what many prize most about the Okinawa bases — American freedom of action. It is that freedom which allows B-52s to take off unimpeded for bombing attacks in Indo-China, and which permits the U.S.—though the fact is never conceded—to stockpile nuclear weapons on the island.

This freedom of action is at the heart of the trouble. Actually, the reversion of Okinawa to Japanese administration is conceded, in principle, by everyone; the real problem is whether Okinawan military bases will have a special status or whether they will be governed by the same conditions that now apply to American bases in Japan proper — including prohibition of nuclear weapons and of offensive military operations, without the prior consent of the Japanese government.

So heated is Japanese and Okinawan nationalist and pacifist sentiment that when Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi leaves this week for talks in Washington, he is expected to be picketed by firebrands who do not even want to negotiate on the issue. Okinawa's militant Reversion Council, which demands "immediate, total and unconditional reversion" (political jargon for the actual removal of the bases) has passed a formal resolution against the Aichi visit, and the one planned for next fall by Premier Sato.

In this kind of climate, Japanese political analysts insist that Sato must come home from Washington with both a specific date for reversion (something in 1972 or 1973 apparently would suffice) and "homeland conditions" — that is, the same rules for the Okinawan bases as for those in Japan.

Anything less might topple the Sato government; and whether or not the Premier fell, his Liberal Democratic party would be greatly weakened for the 1970 elections. If those elections then brought a coalition of leftist parties into power, which is regarded here as a live possibility, the Japanese-American security treaty and the American presence in Japan would be placed in great jeopardy.

Even if the Liberal Democrats, who generally support the security treaty, remained in power, once Okinawa became fully Japanese, the Sato government would have no legal power to agree to military conditions for that particular island that the treaty would not permit elsewhere in Japan. Hence, if Washington will not agree to "homeland conditions," Sato would have no choice but to ask the diet to approve amendments to the treaty for Okinawa — and that, too, would open the treaty itself to abrogation or more radical amendment.

That would be a far higher price to pay than yielding some degree of military flexibility on Okinawa. After all, as one important Japanese official put it, control of the island is proposed to be returned not to an enemy but to an ally; and since the bases are there in large measure to protect that ally, it would make little sense to cling to freedom of operations on Okinawa at the cost of the alliance itself.

New Voice

Lincoln, Neb.

A report by James Reston in the May 23 Star indicates we are going to be gagged by another Kennedy's throwing his weight around. His purpose, of course, is to pave the way into the presidential seat. His Democratic whip job gives a free rein to lambast and belittle everyone in opposition to his own conceited brain-child, a notable trait of all the Kennedys.

With America's agony of our men dying in Vietnam, where it was to be only a temporary, peaceful adjustment and which we are trying to bring to as hasty a close as possible, Ted Kennedy wants us to become involved as another peacemaker, which would only be transferring our men to another front of slaughter with no greater hope for settlement. These nations have never known peace. Why must we always die for a hopeless cause?

Kennedy challenges President Nixon's programs even before time has been given for the chance to succeed or fail. Even as his brother, Bob, he is coming forth with the same impossible promises of wiping out all poverty, hunger and poor housing. Not a single word does he promise about collecting taxes from the rich, the oil companies, the land-owners of thousands of barren acres who are paid by the government neither to plant nor harvest while the multitudes starve. Nor does he offer to collect taxes from the valuable properties and monies given to churches which rent, sell, collect and all tax-free. Neither does he offer the middle man relief from his back-breaking taxes and existing high prices.

Most unbelievable is his sudden compassion for the life of his brother's slayer as another vote-catcher. Nothing is too low to stoop to as a means to an end.

One was never led to believe that the Kennedy family ever gave anything of themselves unless it was to enrich or better a program they were interested in for themselves.

The Facts

Milford, Neb.

We recently had an application for a package liquor license in our town. The applicant was turned down. There was a group of protestors, pointing out the evils of alcohol. So be it! It is agreed that alcohol is the basis for many accidents, broken homes, delinquency, etc. This being true, all I ask is — tell it as it is.

I ask, how many presidents of the United States were teetotalers? George Washington, Honest Abe — you mean they never touched it? How many justices, past and present, of the U.S. Supreme Court are or were abstainers? How about our business executives, school executives, etc.?

What about the great leaders of the Reformation and other religious leaders, Huss, Zwingili, Luther, Calvin, Menno, Pope John? Now, of course, the followers of Mohammed in the Far East are or are supposed to be total prohibitionists, according to the Koran.

What about the deaths due to the evils of sugar, animal fats and careless but not drunken driving? I took a trip with a local businessman who went through seven stop signs and lights in one trip to Lincoln. After that you need a drink! (He is a protestor.)

All I ask is—

Kennedy Cases

Beatrice, Neb.

Why haven't the authorities looked into the Kennedy cases more thoroughly and gotten at the real causes for the two assassinations? In my opinion, Sirhan was forced to do what he did. What was it that the two Kennedys had in common, that some person or persons wanted and the two Kennedys were in the way? Both cases seemed to follow the same pattern of clever planning.

One of the Commandments says: "Thou shalt not kill." The Lord often takes punishment into His own hands. It would be easy for Him to slide California into the ocean.

There have been cases where the wrong man was sent to the electric chair and within a short time, everyone who had anything to do with the case was dead.

People can be punished but not willfully killed.

PIONEER

VIRGINIA PAYETTE

Higher And Higher Go Costs Of Living

NEW YORK — A recent government bulletin let us in on a secret we already knew: that living costs rose eight-tenths of one per cent in March. That, fellow budget-balancers, is the biggest monthly increase in the past 19 years.

And don't kid yourself that you might come out even at the end of the month if you could only pry a raise out of that boss of yours. All the raises go into the price of what you buy, too, in case you hadn't noticed.

Last year personal income zoomed more than nine per cent. But taxes and prices zoomed higher.

By the end of the year the race between raises and prices was still on, and a poor householder who had to run to the bank for a loan found it also was more expensive. The loan, of course, came in handy to pay that surtax, a new item last year, remember.

Compared to index figures for 1957-1959, the dollar is worth 81 cents now. Or, if you want to be morbid about it and go back to 1939, it's shriveled to 39 cents.

Clothing, food, housing, transportation and hospitalization costs have soared in the past year. Try not to think about what they've done in the past 10 years. You'll get a headache, and aspirin's up 17 per cent in the past four years.

Even the hippies, who like to pretend they're above such grubby matters, are suffering. Marijuana's up $5 an ounce from last year.

Where you live has a lot to do with how far your dollars go, too. If you're lucky enough to have homes in Houston or Atlanta or Austin, for instance, count your blessings. Budgets stretch farther there than almost any place.

New York City, on the other hand, is the most expensive spot in the continental U.S. It costs, by one count, 40 per cent more to put up with strikes and riots in "Fun City" than it does to live in less-advantaged (if these are advantages) places.

Inflation is probably the biggest domestic headache plaguing President Nixon and the budget-conscious boys in Congress. In their worry about stalling off a depression, they moved early on that one big step — those fat pay raises should make them all a little more comfortable, especially now that they've added a little more expense money. (Why be half-safe?)

Military Enjoying Precedence Over Civilian With The Backing Of Powerful Rep. Rivers

WASHINGTON — One important illustration of why the military continues to ride roughshod over the civilian branches of government occurred on the floor of the House of Representatives last week.

It was a frenzied scene in which Rep. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina rushed to the well of the House, grabbed the microphone and admonished senior Rep. George Mahon of Texas: "You are playing into the hands of the enemies of the military."

Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, is a powerful man. Hitherto, he had backed up Rivers in voting almost unlimited funds to the military, but he was fed up with military mistakes. However, Rivers is more powerful, in fact is one of the most powerful men in Congress. So later, Rivers and Mahon patched up their altercation and neatly deleted their heated words from the Congressional Record.

Nevertheless, the incident is expremely important and gets to the root of why the military get every cent they want while the cities and civilian branches of government are starved.

Rivers was full of cold anger in his defense of the generals and admirals. This was understandable, for they have cluttered his district with so many land, sea and air bases that it's impossible for any opponent ever to defeat him. In return for these favors, Rivers, as chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, to a large degree is responsible for giving the generals and admirals the position of power and immunity they enjoy today.

Ordinarily the sinking of the submarine Guittaro alongside its dock would be the subject of an immediate, forthright, congressional probe. However, Rivers is the chairman of the committee entrusted with investigation. And he cajoled and bulldozed Mahon of Texas, a man of no mean congressional might, into changing his speech so that he called merely for "adequate discipline," not a court martial of those responsible for the sub's sinking.

Rivers went even further with Rep. William Moorhead of Pennsylvania, another respected Democrat, who had the temerity to investigate and reveal the $2.5 billion overcharge by Lockheed for the building of the C-5A. Peremptorily, Rivers "summoned" Moorhead to appear before the Armed Services Committee for a dressing-down.

When other congressmen rallied to Moorhead's defense, Rivers withdrew his "summons." It was the first time in the memory of any congressman that a colleague had been so arbitrary with another congresman.

Nevertheless, the fact remains, despite these minor retreats, that Mendel Rivers is the single, most effective roadblock to scaling the military down to size from its privileged position.

The roll call of naval mistakes alone has been unprecedented. In addition to the mysterious sinking of the Guittaro, the Navy has lost two Polaris submarines, permitted the USS Pueblo to be seized for still unexplained reasons, lost the EC-121 off the North Korean coast when it should have been protected, experienced two disastrous fires on airplane carriers and let the USS Liberty get riddled with bullets and 34 men killed off the coast of Egypt.

In addition, clearcut evidence has come from Raymond Perelman, a Philadelphia steel manufacturer, that defective steel plate has been supplied to the Navy for submarine manufacture without inspection. The Navy has not bothered to investigate, but has taken the highly unusual position of permitting the steel companies which manufacture the plate to make their own inspection.

None of the above errors has been properly investigated.

Rivers even blocked an investigation of the Cheyenne helicopter contract when Rep. Otis Pike of New York demanded it. Subsequently, the contract was canceled by the Army because of Lockheed's poor performance.

Rivers also badgered the top Pentagon officials into requiring jet planes for all military cargo. This almost went through, until Sen. Howard Cannon of Nevada pointed out that it would benefit one airline only, Overseas National Airways, at the expense of another, Saturn Airways. It turned out that George Tompkins, chairman of Overseas National, was a close friend of Rivers.

Rivers proclaimed that no one had done more for the U.S. Navy than Grumman Aircraft, whose work on the F-111B was so bad that production had to be stopped.

He railroaded the last draft act through the House after only two hours of debate just before midnight because he wanted to leave for the Paris air show the next morning.

Rivers has bulldozed multi-billion-dollar decisions through his committee without giving other members a chance to study or debate them. He has used the Air Force as his personal airline to commute to Charleston. He has summoned top brass to South Carolina to celebrate such memorable events as Mendel Rivers Day or the unveiling of a Mendel Rivers monument.

He has been briefed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the CIA director on the nation's most guarded secrets.

A COLOR

Most Americans have never seen America.

To most Americans, America is their city, its suburbs, the lake twenty miles out of town, and a half dozen other places they visit.

But America is a lot more than that.

A lot more.

If you'd like to see it this summer, Frontier Airlines has a better way, which begins with non-stop jets to Denver. Economical all-expense package vacations that handle all the details for you. Even your ground transportation.

There are 93 different tours in all. Some even with guides along.

If tours aren't your thing—if you want to be free to call your own shots, we'll do this. We'll fly you to the area, and have a rental car waiting for you. And your wife and children can fly Frontier's low Family Plan fares every day of the week, not just weekdays.

Your Travel Agent is the place to start. Or call Frontier Airlines, 477-5281.

It's a better way to see America.

And if you're an American, you really should see the country you live in.

Education Board Meet Could See Miller Fired

By The Associated Press

The State Board of Education will meet here Wednesday in a special session which could bring the firing of State Education Commissioner Floyd A. Miller.

Mrs. Deborah Shepherd of Lexington, one of the board members, said Tuesday she expects the meeting to result in the ouster of Dr. Miller.

The special meeting was called after the board's special attorney, M. J. Bruckner of Lincoln, delivered to the board an opinion that Dr. Miller can be dismissed without a hearing or a specification of the grounds for dismissal.

Usually 5-3

On procedural matters related to the case of Dr. Miller, five members have generally been aligned against three outspoken Miller supporters on the eight-member board.

The Miller backers have included Robert Simmons of Scottsbluff, Norman Otto of Millard and Frank Landis of Lincoln.

The remaining five, in addition to Mrs. Shepherd, are Allan Burkhardt of Norfolk, John Londay of Omaha, John Wagoner of Grand Island and Lloyd Wright of Reynolds.

Wright Unsure

Since the controversy over the retention or dismissal of Dr. Miller surfaced, Wright has said he did not know how he would vote on the issue. But in procedural matters, he has voted against the Miller backers.

If the board fired Miller Wednesday, he is expected to take the board to court to fight the ouster. His supporters have launched a fund to finance his legal counsel.

The most recent contribution was $200 forwarded Monday night by Grand Island school teachers.

3 New Crime Commission Members Deal With Youth

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann announced Tuesday three new appointments to the Governor's Crime Commission.

One of the new appointees is the new mayor of Boys Town, whose identity will become known when he is elected in July.

The other appointees, who expand the commission to 20 members, are Walter Grimes, a member of the board of directors of the Bryant Center for Youth on Omaha's Near North Side, and Mrs. Clifford Jorgensen of Lincoln, chairman of the Nebraska Committee for Children and Youth.

Tiemann had promised to name additional commission members who are connected with youth work, and has directed the commission to concentrate on the problem of juvenile crime.

Mayor Visits

Moscow (UPI) — President Nikolai V. Podgorny Tuesday received Alfonso Corona al Rosal, the visiting mayor of Mexico City, the news agency Tass said. The Mexican mayor is here on a week's tour as the guest of Vladimirf Promyslov, mayor of Moscow who visited Mexico City last year.

Chief Of Patrol Urges Drivers To Be Cautious

State Patrol Supt. Col. James E. Kruger urged Nebraska motorists Tuesday to take extra precautions during the coming Memorial Day weekend.

Last year, he said, 11 persons were killed on Nebraska streets and highways over the Memorial Day weekend.

"So let their tragic experience be a warning to the rest of us to check our driving and observe traffic regulations," Kruger said. "Don't swap your driver's license for a death certificate."

$30,000 Salary Limit Set For State Health Director

By Associated Press

The Legislature, by revising a pending bill, set a $30,000 limit Tuesday on the salary allowed the state health director or the acting state health director.

Sen. Elmer Wallwey of Emerson, who proposed the amendments, noted that Dr. Edwin Lyman is leaving his Omaha-Douglas County post to accept a position in Kansas at $30,000 "so it seems this is the salary that is going to be paid" for health directors.

The pending LB428, which at one stage proposed to remove all salary limits on the health director and leave the judgment to the State Health Board, was called back from final reading for the amendments. Prior to amendment, the bill was setting a $27,500 salary limit on the health director, with no ceiling on the salary of the acting health director.

Dr. Lynn W. Thompson, who was receiving the old statutory limit of $18,000 a year, has resigned as state health director. Revision of the salary limit has been advocated as an aid to obtaining a replacement.

Dr. Dorothy Smith, chosen to serve as acting director until a regular director is recruited, was earning a total of $28,992 in her prior health capacities, Sen. Wallwey informed the legislators.

The Unicameral also made late changes in another bill awaiting final passage, LB606, calling on the state Game Commission to sell 56 miles of abandoned Rock Island railroad right-of-way it has acquired in southeastern Nebraska.

LB606, sponsored by Sens. Fred W. Carstens of Beatrice and Irving F. Wiltse of Falls City, directs sale of the tracts to the highest bidder.

Carstens offered amendments Tuesday to "eliminate sources of dispute and friction." One change would prohibit the Game Commission from selling a tract at less than its cost, based on appraised value. Another would require the Game Commission to provide necessary fencing on unsold tracts.

Both LB606 and LB428 were readvanced from select file after the amendments were adopted.

14 Non-Controversial Bills Passed

By Associated Press

Fourteen relatively non-controversial bills were passed on final reading in the Legislature Tuesday.

The group included one of Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter's tax bills, designed to assure that cabin trailers wind up on tax rolls. LB1031 requires owners or operators of land on which cabin trailers are located to make annual reports to their county assessor of trailers located on the property.

Another of the approved bills was a Little Hoover Commission measure, LB1122, directing the State Railway Commission to charge fees, not to exceed $50, for filing applications, complaints or petitions.

The list (E-emergency clause):

LB377 (Pedersen, Luedtke)—Amending "dead man's statute" to permit testimony by person with direct interest in case as to matters involving the deceased person, but only in trials involving unintentional tort. 39-0.

LB644 (Carstens) — Adopting for Nebraska the provisions of the uniform rendition of prisoners as witnesses in criminal proceedings act. 40-0.

LB676 (Warner, Orme, Knight, Simpson, Luedtke)—Providing for joint use of jails by political subdivisions or agencies, and providing for contracting for care of prisoners. 41-0.

LB698 (Kremer, Luedtke) — Permitting fiduciaries to mortgage real estate involved in decedents' estates so as to increase productivity of such real estate by construction of irrigation wells, land leveling and other improvements. 39-1.

LB727 (Pedersen) — Prohibiting freeholder transfers from one school district to another unless taxes have been paid; setting deadlines, and revising makeup of county school district reorganization committees. 37-0.

LB787 (Luedtke)—Eliminating certain prescribed procedures for president judge in municipal courts having three or more judges. (E) 39-0.

LB836 (Swanson, Holmquist)—Authorizing counties to establish park and recreation boards and issue bonds for park and recreation purposes on vote of the people, and variously extending to recreation the activity of municipal park boards. (E). 39-0.

LB872 (Kokes) — Eliminating from law covering creation of airport authorities certain provisions for creation by combination of cities and counties. 37-2.

LB967 (Pedersen) Authorizing educational service units to contract with city-county or regional health department for certain health services. (E) 39-1.

LB984 (Carpenter) — Harmonizing law related to liquid fuels and eliminating provisions for bond in lieu of insurance for holders of carrier permits. 40-0.

LB1031 (Carpenter) — Requiring owners or operators of land on which cabin trailers are located to make reports of such trailers to county assessor. 38-0.

LB1122 (for governor, by Public Works Committee) — Authorizing the Railway Commission to charge fees for filings of applications, complains or petitions. 40-0.

LB1185 (Proud) — Increasing from six to seven per cent the maximum bond interest which sanitary and improvement districts may pay, and increasing from seven to eight per cent the maximum interest on district warrants. (E) 40-0.

LB1217 (Wallwey, Wylie) — Revising procedures and forms for filing with secretary of state of reports on solicitation of funds by health and welfare organizations. 40-1.

No One Injured In Derailment

Cheyenne, Wyo. (AP) — Five cars of an eastbound Union Pacific freight train left the rails Monday night near Granite, a railroad stop of Sherman Hill west of Cheyenne.

No injuries were reported.

A railroad spokesman said trains were rerouted on a siding, so no delays resulted from the derailment.

The cause of the accident was not known.

2 Appointments Confirmed

The Legislature Tuesday confirmed the appointments of Marvin Nuernberger as state engineer and Larry Johns as director of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann returned Johns to his former post as motor vehicles director following the resignation of Emmett J. Dennis Jr., to serve until a new director is recruited. Tiemann followed this procedure to avoid a conflict with Nebraska statutes which carry no provision for appointment of an acting director.

Johns had been serving as Tiemann's administrative assistant.

Resolution Lauds Everroad's Work

A resolution designating Lt. Gov. John E. Everroad as "the official good will ambassador of the state of Nebraska" was introduced in the Legislature Tuesday.

Sen. Herbert J. Duis of Gothenburg brought in the resolution, No. 53, but all senators were invited to sign it as co-sponsors.

The resolution noted that Everroad has made numerous trips throughout the United States for speeches and other appearances promoting the state with "significant beneficial effects."

The resolution commended the lieutenant governor for devotion to the state "that goes far beyond the requirements of official duties."

100 YEARS OF SERVICE

"I used to stand up and say the world was a miserable place. Then I would sit down and do nothing about it."

Let's face it.
All is not perfect in this land of ours.
America has taken some lumps and quite frankly it hurts.
But maybe we should step back and take a long hard look . . . take inventory of how we are and how we got here.
Maybe we should inspect our brighter side as well as some of our ills.
And maybe, just maybe, we'll come out thinking this country's good side far overshadows its bad.
Then maybe we'll start to do something to make it better. Rather than knocking it, which ends up making it worse.

Now comes the big question.
What can you do? You're only one little individual among over 200 million people. How can you help?
For one thing, you might think about investing in your country. Showing your faith in its future.
That's exactly what you do when you sign up to buy U. S. Savings Bonds. You're simply buying a share in America.
You're also socking away some money for yourself.
Money that grows at a guaranteed rate, to pay you back $4 at maturity for every $3 you've saved.
Of course, Savings Bonds are not going to cure all our headaches. But they'll help to provide the economic strength we'll need for the job.
And at the same time, they can cure a lot of your financial headaches in the years to come.
Any way you look at it, they make good sense.
And that's just what we need in this country right now.

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.

State Senators Criticize Decisions In Feed Grain

By United Press International

The Nebraska Legislature passed and mailed to Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin Tuesday a resolution protesting several recent decisions of Hardin's department in the area of feed grains.

The resolution, sponsored by Sen. Thomas Kennedy of Newman Grove, specifically asks the department to delay implementing three recent orders until July 1 instead of June 1.

The three orders are:

—Discontinuance of the government policy of paying storage in elevators for grain owned by the farmer but sealed under the federal feed grains program.

—An increase in interest rates from 4 to 6% on all federal loans to farmers for construction of grain storing and drying facilities on the farm.

—Limiting such loans to allow them to be issued only to construct facilities needed to store one year's crop.

Kennedy said the three changes appear to be aimed at forcing all feed grains not now held on the farm and not less than one year old onto the market.

"One of the reasons for this is that they (the Agriculture Department) are being pressured to get corn to move so that the market will be held down," he told the Legislature.

Kennedy also said he had contacted the Nebraska congressional delegation in an attempt to have the policy changed.

Not Well Represented

"I'm sorry to say I don't think we are well represented in this cause," he said.

Kennedy said the main reason for asking for the delay is that "we want to have an opportunity to have a conference to show the hardships sudden implementation of this program would cause.

"These fellows out there are new," he said, "and they don't realize what an order like this can do. I'm sure if we can talk to them we can get it worked out. We have been able to do that in the past."

Sen. Herb Nore of Genoa said he felt there was another cause for the problem.

"Right now," he said, "we have no one in the U.S. Agriculture Department who represents the feed grain producers. They are all representatives of cattlemen and bankers. We should carry that message to them, also."

Pesticide Applicator Bill Killed

The Legislature's Agriculture and Recreation Committee Tuesday killed the bill placing examination and licensing requirements on pesticide applicators. The vote was 5-3.

Proponents of Aurora Sen. Maurice Kremer's LB888 contended during a public hearing on the bill that 95% of the pest-control applicators in Nebraska are conscientious but "we've got a lot of fly-by-nighters."

Several farmers related how the misuse of pesticides had ruined their crops.

The applicators themselves requested exemptions in specific categories.

The committee also sent to the floor De Witt Sen. Willard Waldo's LB1292, which would standardize soil test procedures.

Limit Placed On Training School Funds

By United Press International

Nebraska's Legislature moved Tuesday to place a $15,000 limit on the amount of money that can be spent during the coming biennium for the establishment of a second boys training school.

The action came after the bill's sponsor, Sen. Fred W. Carstens of Beatrice, had objected to having his bill to establish a second school held until after the budget bill is passed.

Under a policy adopted earlier in the session by the Legislature, all bills which would require the expenditure of more than $50,000 in state money are held on select file, the second stage in the floor life of a bill, until after the budget bill is passed.

$8 Million Estimated

The motion to hold the bill on select file was made by Sen. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland, who said the Legislature's fiscal analyst has estimated it would cost approximately $7.5 million or $8 million to establish a second training school between Lincoln and Omaha.

Carstens, however, said the policy of holding bills costing more than $50,000 applied only to bills whose cost would be incurred during the coming biennium and not what it might cost in future years.

"I think it's unfair to try to hold this bill because someone has plucked a figure out of the air and said it will cost $8 million," Carstens said.

Not Much Now

"I doubt if it will cost more than $10,000 or $15,000 during the coming biennium."

Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr. of Omaha then moved that the bill be amended to limit the cost of establishing the school during the coming biennium to $15,000.

The amendment was adopted on a 27-1 vote with Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha casting the only "no" vote.

Bridge Demolition Bids All Too High

Bids for demolition of the old bridge over Oak Creek at W. Charleston St. have been rejected, according to Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf.

Schwartzkopf indicated in an executive order rejecting the bids that all bids were more than the estimate of the engineers.

Low bidder on the demolition was Bud Irons Excavating Co. at $9,750. Bids ranged up to $23,250.

The mayor said the city will advertise for new bids.

Students Left Out Of Minimum Pay Act

The Legislature Tuesday changed its mind and decided to exempt students from the state's minimum wage act.

The salary floor is now set at $1 an hour.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff won approval of an amendment to include students under the provisions of the law, but lawmakers Tuesday rescinded that action upon the motion of Sen. Henry Pedersen Jr. of Omaha.

Also exempted were mentally and physically handicapped persons engaged in training programs.

The bill, LB1049, which establishes a 75-cent-an-hour minimum wage for waitresses, hotel bellmen and others paid primarily from tips, was then advanced by voice vote on its way to final reading.

Soldiers Escape

Vienna (UPI) — Two 19-year-old Hungarian soldiers of a border patrol detachment escaped into Austria in full uniform and asked for political asylum, police said Tuesday. Authorities said the uniforms and the machineguns the men carried will be returned to the Hungarians in the next few days.

Bill To Lift Sewage Aid Ceiling Held For Study

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Budget Committee Tuesday held for study a bill lifting a $500,000 annual ceiling on state assistance grants for sewage treatment construction that can be administered by the State Water Pollution Control Council.

The committee-sponsored LB1394 would in effect authorize the council to administer a grant program in any amount that might be later appropriated by the Legislature.

Present law authorizes a $500,000 assistance program for sewage treatment, but it was never funded by the Unicameral.

Money Available

T. A. Filipi, the council's executive secretary, told the committee that approximately $2.4 million in federal funds will be available annually during the next two years.

If the state would contribute 25% of the construction program, or approximately $0.6 million annually, the federal money would be allocated to municipal sewage treatment improvement projects on a 50-55% matching basis rather than the present 30-33%.

This would reduce the local share from the present 67-70% down to as low as 20%.

Removal Necessary

If the state wishes to embark on a 25% assistance program for future projects with an increased federal share, Filipi said, the present $500,000 ceiling would have to be removed from state law.

Ken Bowen of the League of Nebraska Municipalities said the bill would permit Nebraska to take advantage of the federal program's higher matching ratio if the state wants to appropriate the money.

The committee held the measure after attempts to kill or amend the bill failed for insufficient votes.

17 'Noncontroversial' Bills Earn First Round Approval

Nebraska's Legislature, apparently not in an argumentative mood, gave quick first round approval to 17 bills Tuesday afternoon in a session devoid of controversy.

All of the measures, classified as "noncontroversial" by the Unicameral's Reference Committee, were advanced with a minimum of debate.

Included in the bills sent over their first floor hurdles was one aimed at tightening up the state laws governing bingo operations.

Under the bill, the state tax commissioner would be given the power to revoke bingo licenses after a hearing on a complaint.

LB1224 would also limit to two the number of licenses that could be combined for a joint bingo operation under which the $750 prize money limitation could be doubled during a single day's session.

At a public hearing on the bill held by the Unicameral's Revenue Committee, an attorney for the state tax commissioner's office testified that local governmental subdivisions were not doing a good job of enforcing the present laws and that more state supervision was needed.

Retiring Lobbyist Says Job Is Harder With Unicameral

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska's non-partisan Unicameral is more difficult terrain for a lobbyist than a partisan two-house Legislature, according to one man who should know.

Frank Wolf, special assistant to the general manager of Omaha Public Power District, is stepping down this week after serving as the utility's legislative lobbyist since 1933.

In that span of more than three decades, Wolf has lobbed in two sessions of the old bicameral partisan legislature and in every session of the Unicameral.

"You have to deal with more people" under the present system, Wolf noted.

Cites Old-Time Bosses

Under the partisan system, "you would always work through the party bosses, and then follow up on some senators who didn't go along with party leadership."

Now, Wolf said, with no party machinery to work through, a lobbyist must contact all 49 senators and convince at least 25 of them.

"They're on their own," he pointed out. "They think for themselves. I think it's a much better system, although it may be harder work for the lobbyists."

Quality Lots Better

Wolf said the general quality of legislators has improved considerably in the past three decades.

"There were always some outstanding senators in each past session, but percentage-wise the quality has improved," he said.

"These are very high class people. They're reasonable. They're hard-working. They have many more problems than they ever did, and many more demands that cost more money."

Lobbying has been "sometimes frustrating, but generally very pleasant," Wolf said. "This has been an interesting part of my life. It has given me a liberal education in the law and in human psychology."

Won't Miss Hotel Living

The part Wolf won't miss so much is living in a hotel for most of every legislative year. He has returned to Omaha on weekends, but stayed overnight in Lincoln on weekdays.

What are the most useful lobbying techniques?

"I think first of all you've got to sell yourself to the members, then sell your organization," Wolf said. "To do that, you have to know your organization.

"And always you must deal openly and above board."

Lobbyists self-police their own membership, Wolf said, although there has been little need for policing during the past 20 years.

No Shady Deals

"I think it has got to be one of the cleanest operations in the country," he said. "There just aren't any under-the-table deals. We see that there aren't."

Lobbyists, he suggested, are not "guys with horns who have greenbacks sticking out of their pockets. They provide a service to the members of the Legislature by giving them information.

"Taking a senator to dinner is a courtesy, and a method of getting better acquainted," Wolf said. "You can't buy a vote with a dinner. There needn't be any worry about that."

Wolf, who has worked for OPPD for more than 45 years, hopes to engage in some leisurely traveling with his wife after his retirement on June 1.

Faculty Senate Sets Up Council On Student Life

A student-dominated Council on Student Life to coordinate and develop all student living, social and out-of-classroom activities was established by the University of Nebraska Faculty Senate Tuesday.

The new council will replace the Senate's former Committee on Student Affairs.

The Faculty Senate took the action to implement more fully the NU policy statement on the "Student in the Academic Community" which calls for students having "clearly defined means to participate equitably in the formulation of institutional policies and procedures which affect student life."

Said Inequitable

An ad hoc committee of the Senate, including students and administrators, which proposed the new council, termed the make-up of the Committee on Student Affairs "clearly inequitable."

The group called for a new committee, responsible to the NU president, which would have its "powers derived from the entire community rather than a segment of the community." No students have voting rights in the NU Faculty Senate, it was noted.

The council has been approved by the Associated Students of NU, it was announced.

According to the stated purposes, the council "shall have general policy-making power over student social and out-of-classroom activities, subject to the approval of the Board of Regents."

Among its duties will be to assume the responsibilities of the Committee on Student Affairs and its subcommittees, to take action on matters affecting student living, social and out-of-classroom activities brought before the council by other groups and to make judgments concerning the equitable participation of students in the decision-making processes of the university.

County Board Recommends Fairgrounds Beer License

Lancaster County Commissioners recommended approval Tuesday of a beer license for the horse racing season at the Nebraska State Fairgrounds.

State Fair Manager Henry Brandt, appearing on behalf of the State Board of Agriculture which made application for the license, said it is presently the board's intention to limit serving of beer on the State Fairgrounds to the racing period.

He said legislation passed this year permits it at other times but definitely prohibits service of beer during the State Fair week.

No one appeared in opposition to the application.

Also the board recommended approval of a transfer of beer and bottle club licenses to the new owner of the Outpost Tavern at 2834 Folsom.

There was no opposition to the two applications made by Charley Brakhage who recently purchased the tavern.

Motorcyclist Hits Tree, Reported In Fair Condition

A 19-year-old Lincoln motorcyclist was reported to be in fair condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday after he was thrown off his motorcycle and into a tree Monday.

Lincoln police said Arvids Kaulins of 1565 So. 26th suffered a collapsed lung and internal injuries in the one-vehicle accident.

A witness said the youth lost control of his motorcycle when it struck a curb and was thrown into the tree.

Parents Poll To Determine Which Students Are Bused

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Kindergartners will be bused from Maude Rousseau School to Bryan Child Center next fall unless a poll of parents of sixth graders indicates they are not opposed to having their sixth graders bused to other schools, the Board of Education decided Tuesday.

Board members approved Supt. John Prasch's recommendation to bus the kindergartners and provide three teachers for each of the other grade levels to relieve overcrowding at Rousseau until the six-classroom addition is completed.

The board also agreed to determine the opinions of parents of sixth graders about busing as Prasch recommended. He told the board that if the majority of parents say they would not mind having their children bused, the district should go along with that preference.

Mobile Units Hit

The superintendent reiterated his opposition to the use of temporary, mobile classroom units. He said he did not think the board should seriously consider renting or purchasing the units for the site when construction would be going on at the same time.

He told board members that the district's 10 old temporary classroom units, "now practically useless and unable to be moved again," originally cost $82,000. Moving the units cost another $87,000, he reported.

He estimated transportation costs for taking kindergartners to Bryan during the first semester at $1,152 plus a cost of about $720 for a matron to ride the bus.

In other action Tuesday the board approved an application for $68,695 in federal funds to finance the district's adult basic education program next year. "In kind" matching funds totaling $7,632 would be provided by the district for the total $76,328 program.

67 Graduate

Adult basic education supervisor Curtis Sederburg told the board that 67 persons graduated from the program last year. A total of 355 adults were enrolled as of May 1, 1969. Some 213 started during the past year.

Adult basic education classes were held last year at Whittier Junior High, Elliott, Hayward, Havelock and Park Schools, Hill Hatchery, Northwestern Metal Co., Havelock Methodist Church and the Southwest Branch YWCA, Sederburg announced.

The program offers adults the opportunity to complete the ninth grade at no cost in order to enter the Adult High School.

In other business the board:

—Approved a policy limiting the authority of school officials to supply lists of students' names and addresses.

—Took no action on a complaint of a Northeast High School parent about a failing grade that will prevent his son from graduating this spring.

—Authorized school district employes to participate in the tax sheltered annuity program.

—Accepted the bid of Peterson Carpet for a total of $23,334 for carpeting the second and third floors of the Public School Administration Building and the media center o Northeast High School unless further investigation by the business office brings out other information about carpeting proposals.

—Approved insurance premiums of $55,486 per year from the St. Paul Insurance Companies of St. Paul, Minn., to cover all school district property and general liability.

—Voted itself into executive session to continue discussions about salary increases for the top school administrators not covered in the district-Lincoln Education Association negotiations package.

Instructional TV Library Board Chief Appointed

Dr. Barton L. Griffith, director of instructional television at the University of Missouri, has been named chairman of the policy board of Great Plains National Instructional Television Library based at the University of Nebraska, it was announced Tuesday.

Griffith succeeds Dr. Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, retired Denver, Colo., public schools superintendent who has served as board chairman since the library was organized in 1962.

Oberholtzer will continue as a member of the policy board's executive committee.

Chosen vice chairman of the policy board was Dr. Robert Gerletti, director of the educational media division for the Los Angeles, Calif., County superintendent of schools.

Other members of the policy board include Dr. Wesley C. Meierhenry, chairman of the NU department of adult and continuing education, and Richard Hull, director of Ohio State University's Telecommunication Center.

Student Charged With Possessing A Forged Check

A University of Nebraska student was charged Tuesday with possessing a forged check after allegedly forging checks to pay for court fines.

According to police reports, Sherwin L. Jarmon, 21, of 516 Harper Hall, told police that he had attempted to pass a forged check in order to raise money to pay Municipal Court fines on traffic violations.

Jarmon, who was specifically charged with possessing a $45 forged instrument May 26, requested a preliminary hearing in Lancaster County Court which was set for June 11. Judge Ralph Slocum set bond at $2,500.

Party Is Courtesy For Bride-Elect

The guest of honor at a bridal courtesy last Thursday evening was Miss Irene Norton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Norton, whose marriage to Robert Poff will be an event of Sunday, June 1.

Pictured at the shower are (seated, left to right) Mrs. Albert Norton, the bride-to-be, her sister, Miss Ruth Norton, and Mrs. J. O. Burnett. Standing (from the left) are Mrs. James Rutledge, Mrs. Gale Anderson, at whose home the party was held, Mrs. Ray McLeod and Miss Gayla Anderson. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Anderson were Mrs. McLeod and Mrs. Rutledge.

A graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University, Miss Norton is studying for her Masters degree at the University of Nebraska, where her fiance is a student in the College of Law. He is the son of Mrs. Wilbert Poff of Pearisburg, Va., and the late Mr. Poff.

Wedding Plans And Parties Revealed

Miss Lynnette Spilker, whose marriage to James Davis will be solemnized Sunday afternoon at the Sheridan Lutheran Church, has named Miss Bonnie Johnson as her honor attendant. Her bridesmaids wil be Miss Linda Poland and Miss Barbara Niebuhr, and the junior bridesmaids will be Miss Karla Fillman of York, and Miss Leanne Spilker.

Tom Davis will serve his brother as best man, and seating the guests will be Joe Haag and Ron Marcelino. Larry Spilker, brother of the bride-to-be, and Ben Saunders will be the groomsmen.

The bride-to-be was the guest of honor last Saturday at a luncheon for which Mrs. Bernard Wishnow was hostess at her home, and Mrs. Don Davis and Mrs. Arnold Nordquist entertained for Miss Spilker at a recipe shower, Thursday evening, May 15.

Informal Party A Farewell Courtesy

Saying good-bye to friends who are moving away is seldom a very pleasant thing to do. We must admit, however, Mr. and Mrs. Houghton Furr, Jr. found a way to make an unpleasant task as enjoyable as possible. Mr. and Mrs. Furr were host and hostess on Saturday evening when they entertained at a going-away party for Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Wright who will be moving to Kearney in the very near future.

Taking part in the festivities honoring the Wrights were 12 guests including Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brehm, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jarvis and Mr. and Mrs. Russ Gillespie. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Woods III of Scottsbluff were unable to attend.

During the course of the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wright, who will be leaving Lincoln on May 31, were presented with a gift from the Furrs and their guests.

Activity In Suburbia

'Tis the season for traditional caps and gowns as Lincoln residents of all ages participate in or observe graduation activities honoring everyone from kindergarteners to university students. And amidst all the flurry of such goings-on, we're happy to report that a number of suburban residents will be receiving diplomas this spring. This particular morning we wish to add our congratulations to those that Fred Witt, Jr. will be receiving this evening. Fred, who is the son of Fiene Heights residents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Witt, will be among those graduating from the ninth grade at Irving Junior High School's commencement exercises.

Last Thursday when we mentioned a recent trip taken by Eastmont residents Mrs. Elsa Pelikan and her son, Charles, we didn't have time to relate all of the details of their travels — so now we'll do a bit of catching up.

If you'll remember, Mrs. Pelikan and Charles spent the weekend before last as the guests of Mrs. Pelikan's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Wilson of Kearney. After spending three days with Dr. and Mrs. Wilson, the two Lincoln residents motored to Minden where they had a visit with former Lincoln residents Mr. and Mrs. Bob Garrett. On Tuesday evening they attended the graduation exercises of Minden High School, at which Mr. and Mrs. Garrett's daughter, Gigi, was honored as valedictorian of the senior class.

The personification of busy-ness in the very recent past has been Mrs. Pearle Frey of Kimberly Heights whose activities have included everything from entertaining a guest to attending an old-fashioned barn dance. Mrs Frey also managed to squeeze in a trip to Red Cloud where she had a visit with her mother, Mrs. J. H. Callahan. Mrs. Callahan then returned to Lincoln for a brief stay with her daughter.

That old-fashioned barn dance we mentioned is an annual event, and this year it took place on Sunday, May 25. Host and hostess for the yearly festivities are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Speidel who furnish their barn for an evening of fun for the members of the "Swing 'Em in Gingham" Square Dance Club. Mrs. Frey and her escort, Glenn Kollars, were among those who took part in this year's event.

Reunion

The annual reunion of the Lincoln High School Octette was held Monday evening, when the current members and "alumnae" met for a 6 o'clock dinner in the cafeteria of Lincoln High School.

New members were introduced, and a program was given by the current "Octette-Plus-One."

Club Program

A conference report will be presented Wednesday evening following the 6:30 o'clock dinner of the Soroptimist Club at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Chapel Wedding

For the 3:30 o'clock wedding of Miss Judith Kay Norden, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Alvin J. Norden, and DeLayne J. Peck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo E. Peck of Columbus, which took place Sunday afternoon, May 25, bouquets of yellow gladioli decorated the altar of the Lutheran Student Chapel on the University of Nebraska campus.

Mrs. Olin C. Barjenbruch, the matron of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Jeanne Peck of Columbus, sister of the bridegroom, wore slim, Empire frocks of mint green chiffon over taffeta trimmed with Swiss embroidery.

Serving Mr. Peck as best man was Olin C. Barjenbruch, and the groomsman was Thomas P. Larsen of St. Louis, Mo. The ushers were George S. Kaufman and Donald J. Norden, brother of the bride.

Floral appliques of Alencon lace patterned the bride's gown of white peau de soie. The lace edged the high throatline and brief sleeves, and the princess lines of the skirt were emphasized by the wide, detachable train of lace and silk. Her illusion veil was held by a cluster of jeweled lace petals.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck will live at 630 So. 18th. The bridegroom is a senior student at the University of Nebraska, from which Mrs. Peck will receive her degree on Saturday.

Attendants Named

Naming the members of her bridal party for her late May wedding is Miss Patricia Ann Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ray, who will become the bride of Garry Merle Upton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Upton, on Thursday evening, May 20.

For the evening ceremony, which will be solemnized at the Second Baptist Church, Miss Ray will have as her honor attendant her fiance's sister, Miss Linda Upton. The junior bridesmaids will be Mr. Upton's sister, Miss Cindy Upton, and the bride-elect's sister, Miss Peggy Ray. Miss Shannon Ray will be her sister's flower girl.

Serving as best man will be Michael Ray, brother of the bride-to-be, and seating the guests will be Dallas Baker of North Platte, and Mike Leupold. The junior groomsmen will be Miss Ray's brother, Dennis, Ray, and Mr. Upton's cousin, Lonnie Upton. Tim Ray, brother of the bride-elect, will be the ringbearer.

The soon-to-be bride is a junior at the University of Nebraska, where Mr. Upton is a former student.

ABBY: give your blessing to fun contest

DEAR ABBY: My wife took a secretarial job with an insurance company just to keep herself busy as the kids are grown and gone. Suddenly she announces that she and a man she works with are going on a weight losing contest. The one who loses the most weight in 30 days has to treat the other one to a steak dinner in the best restaurant in town. (Just the two of them.) I trust my wife, but I don't like the idea of her going out to dinner with another man. He's married, too, but I understand his wife is all for it as she'll do anything to get him to lose weight.

Should I go along with this "contest" or not?

JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: It sounds like a fun kind of contest with a healthy objective. Give them your blessings and may the biggest loser win.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Afternoon Service

The marriage of Miss Stephanie Scherich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Harry Blair Scherich of Rugby, N.D., recently of Lincoln, to Kevin Kealoha Frewert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Frewert of La Crosse, Wis., was solemnized Saturday afternoon, May 24, at Herrick Chapel on the Grinnell College campus, Grinnell, Iowa.

Daytime-length frocks of voile in pastel tones of pink, blue and lemon yellow were chosen for Miss Rebecca Scherich of Rugby, who was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Joy Conard, Ann Arbor, Mich., and Miss Sharon Umberger.

George C. Joy, III, of Lincoln, served Mr. Frewert as best man, and seating the guests were Jeffrey Wolfson, Evanston, Ill., and Robert Asbille, Urbandale, Iowa.

For her wedding, the bride selected a floor-length gown of white silk chiffon over taffeta designed in the shirtwaist mode. White satin fashioned the collar and cuffed the long, full sleeves of the tucked bodice, and the dirndl skirt was belted with satin at the natural waistline.

Mr. Frewert and his bride will reside in Grinnell, where the bridegroom is a junior student at Grinnell College. Mrs. Frewert has attended Grinnell College.

Bridal Shower Honors Former Coed

A bridal courtesy honoring a former University of Nebraska coed was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Andrew Sullivan who with her daughter, Miss Patty Sullivan, entertained for Miss Jane Ann Walla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Walla of Columbus.

Miss Walla, who has chosen July 12, as the date for her marriage to Robert Byington, was presented a linen shower during the afternoon hours.

Seated (from the left) are the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Donald Walla of Columbus; the guest of honor; her fiance's mother, Mrs. Don Overton; Miss Patty Sullivan; Miss Vance Walla (seated on the arm of the chair); Mrs. John Yeakley; and Miss Cindy Vaverka. Standing (left to right) are Mrs. Richard Hrabak, Miss Eleanor Sullivan, Mrs. John Byington; and Miss Deanna Bemis.

G.I. Woman Named To New School Position

Mrs. Elizabeth Falconer Dillon of Grand Island has been nominated for the Lincoln Public Schools' new position of director of staff development, it was announced Tuesday.

Mrs. Dillon, director of Grand Island's Title III program for able students, is expected to be appointed by the school board at its next meeting.

She will join the school staff later in the summer, working under Dr. R. L. Fredstrom, associate superintendent for instruction.

A graduate of Ottawa (Kan.) University, Mrs. Dillon will receive her doctorate of education from the University of Nebraska this week.

Duties of the new position will include determining professional growth needs for the staff and, helping to develop a cohesive program of staff retraining to implement curriculum changes and to keep professional staff current with new developments.

She will help organize curriculum workshops, study groups, cooperative programs with universities, leadership training seminars for administrators and supervisors and maintain close ties with universities and agencies. She also will aid in counseling professional staff through personal interviews and direct all internship programs.

Fire Kills Airman

Bangkok (UPI)—A U.S. airman died Monday in a fire that swept 40 dwellings outside Takhli Air Base, U.S. spokesmen said Tuesday. The man's identity was withheld pending notification of relatives.

NU Rodeo Club Selects Coslor

The University of Nebraska Rodeo Club will be headed by Jerry Coslor of Sargent.

Other new officers include Chip Whitaker of Chambers, vice president; Larry Radant, Madison, treasurer; Kay Richardson, Ainsworth, recording secretary; Dianna Fleek, Honolulu, Hawaii, corresponding secretary; Jeanette Dillon Waverly, historian; and Greg Phifer, Mason City, Agricultural Executive Board representative.

Gage County Voc Tech Area Change Urged

Beatrice (UPI) — The board of directors of the Beatrice Chamber of Commerce Tuesday approved a recommendation asking that Gage County be removed from District 4 and be placed into a new combination of Districts 5 and 6 in connection with area technical vocational training in the state.

The recommendation came from the Economic Development Division of the chamber.

LB979, now pending in the Legislature, would set up nine area districts. District 4, into which Gage county has been placed, is made up of 21 counties extending as far west as Kearney and including Hastings and Grand Island.

The district proposed by the Chamber of Commerce here would combine two former districts, No. 5 and No. 6, which include Lincoln and the majority of southeast Nebraska counties.

Gary Carstens, development division vice president, said Beatrice is more closely knit with southeast Nebraska than it is to the south central counties in District 4.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

"I'll meet you tomorrow then for lunch—12 o'clock," said the man in Merida. We shook hands. In Mexico you shake hands a lot. When you meet. When you part.

This is the warm tropics on the Yucatan peninsula.

Francisco de Montejo came with Cortez. He and his son founded the city in 1542. His massive stone home is on the edge of the shady plaza. Montejo and son are carved in stone. Each with his armored foot on the head of a conquered Maya Indian.

☆ ☆ ☆

It was raining when I went over to lunch at "Prosperidad"—"Properity". A good omen, I thought.

I was trying to get some beach land on Cozumel. Not buy exactly. Foreigners cannot own Mexican land within 31 miles of a seacoast. But you can work out a leasing arrangement.

The island of Cozumel is one of the sunny islands of the Caribbean. The prices are still reasonable.

☆ ☆ ☆

I had a cold Montejo beer and waited. And waited. And waited. And waited. "Perhaps something happened," said the headwaiter. I've set up a good relationship with him.

He brought a fresh beer and some ceviche. Raw Red Snapper marinated in lime juice with onions and hot peppers.

About an hour and a half later, I walked into the room back of the bar. There was my man. Having lunch with a friend.

He seemed delighted to see me. No mention of the lunch.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Ah, so good to see you," he said. "Are you having lunch here? Well, first you must sit and have a drink with us. Waiter!"

He said: "Did you get all the information you wanted about the land at Cozumel?"

I said: "Well, no, Senor. What about the land?"

He said: "I sent it all to your hotel. When I return to my office, I will check. If it has not gone yet, I will send it by special messenger. Well, how do you like Yucatan?"

☆ ☆ ☆

"No Mexican will be tied by time. He is politely disapproving of the American custom of hurrying to be somewhere.

I have gone to parties only to find the host has cancelled it and gone somewhere else.

A 12 o'clock lunch may mean somewhere around 2 o'clock. But in this case I thought with business and a fair piece of money at stake — I was wrong again.

☆ ☆ ☆

We had a drink. The real estate man said: "You are wise to get land now in Cozumel. It is another Acapulco only better. Acapulco is too dry and dusty. Cozumel is a paradise."

He said: "I will arrange all the lease papers. Be calm. If the information has not left my office when I return, it will come immediately."

I said: "My plane leaves at four."

"Of course," he said. "Have no fear. We want you to be happy in Cozumel. Another drink. Waiter!"

☆ ☆ ☆

The rain came bucketing down the thatch roof of 'Prosperidad." It is flat land. There are no runoff gutters. The rain lies on the cobbled pavement in great sheets of water.

The restaurant was open, and cool moist air blew threw.

"The climate on Cozumel is even better," he said. "For you have a trade wind. Do you know you can have the land and build your house for only $16,000 U.S.? Cheap no?"

☆ ☆ ☆

He stood up. We shook hands. "I must go to my office and send you the complete information," he said. "It will be at your hotel."

I went back to the hotel dreaming of my little home on Cozumel. And waited. And waited. Until it was time for the plane. Easy come, easy go.

Lutheran Minister Will Be Honored At Tabitha Home

A 100-year-old resident of Tabitha Home, Lincoln, will be honored Sunday on the 75th anniversary of his ordination as a minister of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

He is the Rev. Dr. August Schormann, who has lived at Tabitha since 1963. Pastor Schormann celebrated his 100th birthday last December 13th.

He served churches in Hayestown, Brazile Mills, Thayer, Ashton, Waco and Staplehurst and in his early years as a pioneer Nebraska minister taught school. He came to the U.S. from Germany as a young man and was graduated from the St. Louis Seminary in 1894.

He was awarded the honorary doctor of law degree by Concordia College, Seward, in 1964.

Hartsock Proposes Larger, Better Trained Police Force

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of three personality sketches of new members on Lincoln's City Council.)

By TOM EKVALL
Star Staff Writer

"The city of Lincoln is very important to me and my family — so important that I terminated my service as a special agent with the FBI in Chicago to return here to raise my family," declared newly-elected City Councilman Dick Hartsock.

But, Hartsock said, although Lincoln is a "fine city," there is room for improvement. During the campaign he advocated a larger and better trained police force.

Hartsock, who at 36 is the youngest member of the City Council, was the top vote-getter in the May 6 election — in his first bid for public office. He was appinted to the library board last August to replace Chauncey Barney, but has since resigned the post.

NU Graduate

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, he practices law with the firm of Muffly and Hartsock.

Hartsock said his experience in law enforcement has taught him that police must "enforce the law with respect, reasonableness and compassion."

"That isn't easy," he added, "for often the police are dealing with persons who are intentionally trying to provoke a violent reaction."

Training Essential

Simply reinforcing the police force will not be sufficient to decrease Lincoln's crime rate, Hartsock said. More training must be provided all the members of the force.

"City government must never be so rigid and unyielding that it won't be responsive to sensible requests from those it serves," Hartsock said.

During the campaign, he proposed a traffic signal at West O and Capital Beach Blvd., accelerated street improvement on 70th St. between A and O, and suggested that the city require the local bus line to provide better service or else revoke its franchise.

Hartsock said that "zoning should be dealt with on the basis of the reasonableness of the requests."

Double Duty

He said the city's comprehensive plan for community development should be one that will protect the property rights of citizens yet not retard reasonable economic development by commercial and industrial interests.

"Often complex physical changes come about as a city grows, and these are not always initially considered in comprehensive plans," Hartsock pointed out.

He remarked that the city must be able to adapt to such circumstances.

Regarding urban renewal, Hartsock said he is for a properly administered program that will benefit the entire community.

'Must Improve'

"Urban renewal is no good unless it improves, not just disrupts, the lives of the persons involved. I'm more interested in helping people, and not just building structures," he had said earlier.

Hartsock is a member of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, Lincoln Area Heart Association and Nebraska Heart Association, and is board chairman of Gateway Sertoma Club.

He is also a member of the Masons, Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Elks, American Legion, American Bar Association, Lincoln Bar Association and Nebraska Young Republicans.

Hartsock said he enjoys outdoor sports and recreation, and is an avid fan of Cornhusker football.

A Fremont native, he now lives with his wife and four children at 918 Mulder Drive.

Curtis Seeks Information On Finances

Washington (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., demanded Tuesday that an attorney representing a group formed to fight hunger supply information on what foundations are financing his group.

John R. Kramer, executive director of the National Council on Hunger and Malnutrition, argued that the Nixon administration's food stamp proposals fall billions of dollars short of their own stated goals.

And he fired a barrage of statistics at the Senate Agriculture Committee to back his contention, jolting committee members and producing charges from Republicans that it was politically motivated.

Earlier, Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin conceded that his department's "nutritionally complete diet" costing $100 monthly for a family of four "doesn't provide the variety and flexibility that all of us would prefer."

Hardin was not ready to present draft legislation of the administration's proposal but said it would be transmitted to the committee within "days not weeks."

Mickey Rooney Takes 7th Bride

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP) — Actor Mickey Rooney married Tuesday for the seventh time. His bride was Caroline Hockett, 25, of Beverly Hills, Calif., a former secretary for the Miami (Fla.) Herald.

Rooney, 48, finished his early morning show at the Fremont Hotel before the 2:30 a.m. ceremony at the Courthouse Wedding Chapel.

Alex Geist, Longtime LT&T Employe, Dies In Arkansas

Alex Geist, 72, former Lincoln resident who was co-founder and past president of Winders and Geist, Inc., died Monday in Mountain Home, Ark.

Mr. Geist worked for Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. for 40 years. He was an area sales supervisor until his retirement. He was living in Gamaliel, Ark., at the time of his death.

Winders and Geist, Inc. is a firm that invented the floor molding for electric and telephone wires and marketed the product.

A member of the Lincoln Elks, Mr. Geist also belonged to the American Legion and the Telephone Pioneers Association.

Survivors include his wife, Elsie; his sons, Joe C., James E., and Jack H., all of Lincoln; his daughters, June M. Henderson of Lompoc, Calif., Sybil E. Arnold of Missoula, Mont., and Kathryn M. McCartney of Belton, Mo.; his brothers, Walter of Gloucester, Va., Conrad of Gamaliel, Leo of Omaha, and William of Lombard, Ill.; his sisters, Emma Huenergardt of Saratoga, Calif., Olga Holter of Kansas City, Mo., Martha Hanson of Commerce, Tex., Louise Wells of Lebannon, Ore., and Alma Jones of Lincoln; 16 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in Mountain Home, with burial at Gamaliel.

Hanover Mayor Killed By Train

Hanover, Kan. (UPI) — Cecil Jones, 69, mayor of Hanover, Kan., was killed Tuesday afternoon in a tractor-train accident here.

A spokesman for the Washington County (Kansas) sheriff's office said Jones was southbound three blocks south of the post office here when the tractor he was driving was struck broadside by a 107-car eastbound Union Pacific freight train containing four diesel units.

The spokesman said the whistle on the train was knocked down when it cut the tractor in half.

Survivors include his wife and one son.

YOUR FAMILY NEEDS A CLEAN CARPET
And at the LINCOLN RUG COMPANY we have the means for attaining a really clean carpet. The STEAMATIC SOIL EXTRACTION SYSTEM pulls dirt out, rather than washing it deeper into the fabric. It accomplishes this by a combination of a controlled steam detergent and a continuous vacuum action. Don't send your carpet away, we'll clean it in your home. Call us for a demonstration.

Snow Removal Aid Provided By Nebraska Tops $500,000

The amount of snow removal assistance provided by the state to cities and counties in Nebraska topped the $500,000 mark Tuesday.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann approved two more applications for state assistance under a bill passed by the Legislature earlier this session.

The two applications signed Tuesday provided $49,580.41 for Dixon County and $128.93 for Henderson in York County.

The total funds now spent from the $1 million appropriated by the Legislature are $507,794.70. The deadline for applying for the aid, which was provided to the counties and cities on a 90-10 matching basis, was May 15.

The two applications approved Tuesday were made in April, the governor's office said.

McCarthy Urged To Run For Senate As An Independent In Another State

© New York Times Service

Washington — Some influential supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy are urging him to run for reelection to the Senate next year from New York or California as an independent, rather than from Minnesota as a Democrat.

The purpose of such a dramatic move would be to establish a major power base in a large state from which to launch an independent campaign for the presidency in 1972.

McCarthy is presently leaving completely open the question of running for president on a third-party ticket next time, but he has not been very encouraging to his associates who would like to see him undertake a big-state Senate race as a preliminary.

"I don't have any interest in it," McCarthy said in an interview Tuesday, acknowledging there had been "some talk" about the idea recently and indicating that he had explored various implicit problems.

Have To Resign

"I'd probably have to resign from the Senate to establish residence," he continued. "Some questions were raised about Bobby Kennedy in New York, and even about Pierre Salinger in California, although I don't think residence would be a problem if I were a free agent.

"The whole idea of people outside states going into them to run is interesting to me, but I'm not entertaining any such plans."

Those pushing for a McCarthy Senate race in New York recall how successful the Minnesotan was in the state's presidential primary last June, when district delegates pledged to him won 62 of 123 contests, compared to 30 for Senator Robert F. Kennedy and 12 for Hubert H. Humphrey.

New York appears to offer a particularly enticing prospect to the McCarthy backers who would like to see their candidate move.

The possibilities in California are not regarded as so bright.

When McCarthy was asked about the possibility of his running on an independent presidential ticket in 1972, he wouldn't say he would but he certainly wouldn't say he wouldn't.

"I don't know what will happen," he replied, "but I've been saying for a long time that you can't keep denying people some kind of voice in their national election, as the Republicans did in 1964 and the Democrats in 1968."

Broer Apparent Low Bidder On NU Library Job

W. J. Broer Construction Co. of Lincoln was the apparent low bidder for the general work of remodeling the basement of Love Library at the University of Nebraska when the bids were opened Tuesday afternoon. The bid submitted was $37,950.

Newburg and Bookstrom Co. of Lincoln was the apparent low bidder for the mechanical work with a bid of $12,990.

Energy Enterprises Corp. submitted the apparent low bid for electrical work at $9,030.

Bids will be reviewed and recommendations will be made at the meeting of the Board of Regents at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

The non-newsmakers...

Publicity and public attention at any price is the farthest thing from their minds. They are not looking for something to complain about. They can see things about them which need improvement and they are willing to tackle the task. But they see some good things too.

They don't believe in criticism and protest without offering constructive alternatives. They believe that soap and water and a neat appearance go hand in hand with health and happiness. They know their strength is in their numbers because they comprise the overwhelming majority of the young people in the world today.

Why are they so inconspicuous? Because they are busy doing things which need to be done. More of them perform works of charity than we ever hear about. They are applying themselves to their educations, going to church every week, participating in sports, furnishing the real leadership in their own groups, and working in ways which contribute to the betterment of society.

Right now they are seeking summer jobs. Thousands upon thousands of them are ready to contribute an honest day's work for a fair wage during the summer months. Groups like this are studying the Journal-Star Want Ads daily in search of summer work. Can you use a fine American in your place of business this summer? If you can, let them know of your opening by placing a Help Wanted Ad in the Journal & Star.

The masked bobwhite made its home in the deep grasses of southern Arizona until overgrazing by cattle eliminated its natural habitat. By 1912, many ornithologists believed the bird to be extinct. It was rediscovered in 1927 in Sonora, Mexico.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. If is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.

'Now, We've Got This . . ."

Getting Dean Dorsey, director of the Midstates Federation Track Meet, to discuss the history of that event is a most difficult task.

He can get through about two years of recollections of the 12-year history of the meet before the train of thought is interrupted by a "We've got this great half-mile field this year," or "Have you noticed the pole vault field we've lined up. There's three 15-foot vaulters in it."

But if you bear with the energetic Cozad newspaperman long enough via Alexander Graham Bell's device, you can get from 1958 to the present and you'll know a great deal about Friday's field of athletes as well as about how it all came about.

"Harold Chaffee (then Cozad High athletic director, now Nebraska Wesleyan football coach) and I pioneered the thing 12 years ago," Dorsey recalls.

"We had the idea and the Jaycees here came up with the money when we asked them for it."

The first meet in 1958 was called the Cozad Open and Junior Olympics with less than 200 entries.

"The bulk of our field at that time came from Kearney State College," Dorsey remembers, "with just a scattering of interest elsewhere."

Switched To AAU

The following year, the Cozad meet switched to the AAU or the AAU switched to Cozad. The Midwest AAU meet had been a fixture in Omaha for 25 years.

"We made a bid for it with a presentation to the AAU and got it," Dorsey says.

Then came girls and an immediate problem. "We had been running it with only a junior and collegiate division," Dorsey relates, "But there seemed to be a great deal of interest in girls track and field, so we added a girls division.

"Adding the girls events gave us a headache at first because they didn't know what was going on.

"I think we had about 170 girls and it seems like 125 of them were entered in the 75-yard dash," he says. "They were all sprinters."

Dorsey solved that problem by limiting girls in future meets running either the 75-yard dash or the 50-yard hurdles in the short-race field and limiting the lassies to only two field events.

From AAU To Federation

The next major move for the Cozad officials came in 1963 when they switched allegiance from the AAU to the Federation.

It was at this time that the feud between those two warring groups was reaching a peak and AAU officials were casting scornful glances Dorsey's way, but as a Federation meet, the carnival soon grew to nearly 500 entries.

"We're not getting that many entries any more," Dorsey points out. "But what we're not getting any more are the 2:10 half-milers."

Which gave him another chance to divert to talk of this year's meet.

"What we're getting now are the quality athletes. For instance, we have four of the top five finishers on the golf medal chart from last weekend's high school 880 field."

For the first time in its 12-year history, the meet won't be held in Cozad, having been switched to Gothenburg because of construction on the stadium at Cozad.

"This switch has shown how closely the three cities (Cozad, Gothenburg and Lexington) work together on things out here," he says. "We've had great co-operation from the people in Gothenburg. Dutch Zorn (Gothenburg High coach) has been working harder than ever for us and the Gothenburg Jaycees have joined with our Jaycees in sponsoring the meet."

Has Dorsey ever gotten tired of working on the meet and felt like giving it up during those 12 years? "Yes, every year as soon as the meet is over," he replies, "But two months later, I'm ready to go again."

Track attention for juniors, girls and collegians focuses on Dorsey's tri-city area every year about this time of year.

ANGELS FIRE BILL RIGNEY

. . . Phillips Promoted To Manager Of Slumping Club

Anaheim, Calif. (AP) — Bill Rigney was fired Tuesday as manager of the California Angels, whom he had led since they came into organized baseball, and was replaced by coach Harold "Lefty" Phillips.

The sacking of Rigney from his $65,000 job came the day after the Angels returned from a 9-10 road trip.

General Manager Dick Walsh announced the firing at a press conference in Anaheim Stadium after informing Rigney of the decision earlier in the day.

"It is the position of my own and of management that this is not a sixth place club in the Western Division of the American League," said Walsh, who became general manager after last season.

"We waited for the ship to right itself and it finally became time that a decision had to be made. We would either forego the entire season or make a change."

RIGNEY . . . out

Walsh said Rigney would be paid off on his two-year contract, which extends through next season. That pact was announced only last Sept. 24.

Currently the Angels are just 11-28 and stand 12 games behind Minnesota in the Western Division and 8½ behind Seattle's brand new expansion team.

Rigney later told a newsman, "Naturally I'm disappointed . . . I know something had to be done. It's a part of this game.

"They're my players and they are my responsibility and if they don't perform well, something has to be done about it. Sometimes it takes something like this — kind of a shock treatment."

He said he wouldn't consider any offers now.

"I'm going home to fish and play golf," he said.

California at the time of the firing had the lowest batting average in the majors, .216.

Phillips was named to manage through the remainder of the year.

"At the end of that time a decision will be made on his status for 1970," Walsh said.

Phillips, 50, appeared only briefly in organized baseball with Bisbee of the Arizona-Texas league in 1939 before being forced out of action with a sore arm. He returned as a scout — with Cincinnati from 1948 to 1950, and with the Dodgers from 1952 to 1957.

He rejoined the Los Angeles club of the National League as a coach, serving from 1965 through 1968.

Phillips commented, "The first thing we're going to do is work on fundamentals — a repetition of base running, fielding, and all-around baseball."

"I realize you can't make a .300 hitter out of a .210 hitter,

PHILLIPS . . . in but twice during the last road trip a pitcher could have scored on singles by Jim Fregosi but they stopped at third.

"Fregosi and Ruben Amaro are the only guys on the club who really know how to play baseball.

Rigney, who started his managerial career at Minneapolis of the American Association in 1954, moved the National League's Giants in 1956 and came with the club when it moved from New York to San Francisco in 1958. He moved to Los Angeles and on to Anaheim with the Angels in 1961.

The Angels' third-place finish in the American League in 1962 earned Rig "Manager of the Year" honors. That was as high as the Angels climbed. They did have fifth-place finishes in 1964 and 1967.

Last year the Angels, after a disasterous start but a hot finish in September, trailed eighth. About this same time a year ago Rig's job was in danger.

Prep Edges O. Westside For 'A' Title

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Ralston — Creighton Prep captured its third high school championship of the year here Monday, with a come-from-behind 4-3 state baseball finals victory over Omaha Westside.

Westside, a semifinal conqueror of Lincoln High by a 2-1 count, jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the opening inning then extended the bulge to 3-0 in the top of the third frame.

But Prep, which won the state Class A basketball crown this spring and claimed the swimming title during the winter, tallied three times in the bottom of the third to knot the count.

Then the Junior Jays, comprised of players from last summer's state Junior American Legion champions, scored again in the fifth to go ahead to stay.

Crucial errors led to much of the scoring. Westside scored twice in the first when Todd Urosevich hit a two-out single to right with runners at first and second from a walk and a hit batsman.

The single scored one, but the throw got away from Prep catcher Ted Sledge to allow the second run.

The Warriors added their third run when Metro League all-star football player Tony Villotta opened with a single, moved up on a fielder's choice, then scored all the way from second on a wild pitch as Sledge looked frantically, but unsuccessfully, for the ball.

Westside pitcher Tom Stewart was sailing along through the first two innings, with five strikeouts to his credit, when he suddenly lost the range. He walked the bases full in the third. With two outs Prep first sacker Dan Hill singled to center for two runs, but when Westside centerfielder Rick Kaiser let the ball get through him, the tying run tallied from first.

A walk and an infield bunt single gave Prep two runners in the fifth frame. On a double steal attempt Westside catcher Randy Horn's low throw went into left field and allowed the deciding run.

Nino, Tiger, Others Subpoenaed In Probe

. . . FIGHTERS TO BE QUESTIONED

New York (AP) — Middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti of Italy, who was upset by 12-5 underdog Dick Tiger Monday night, manager Bruno Amaduzzi, Tiger and several figures in boxing have been subpoenaed in a grand jury investigation, it was learned Tuesday.

District Attorney Frank Hogan's office declined to comment on the subpoenas. Benvenuti, who suffered a broken right hand in the first round, non-title fight, said he and his manager were served immediately after the fight in Madison Square Garden.

Benvenuti said they will appear for questioning this afternoon.

Tiger could not be reached for comment.

The persons served were ordered to appear before a New York County grand jury, it was learned.

The New York Post said the subpoenas were served as part of a secret two-month investigation by Hogan into underworld connections with boxing. The newspaper said subpoenas also have been served on a number of key Mafia figures known to be prominent in gambling operations.

The Post said the investigation apparently is not aimed specifically at Monday night's fight or its outcome.

There was a report bookmakers stopped taking bets after the odds favoring Benvenuti had gone up from 7-5 to 12-5. There supposedly was little money bet on Tiger, the upset winner. This indicated no betting coup was involved.

"I don't know what it's all about," said Benvenuti, whose right hand was in a cast. "We will cooperate.

"I haven't the slightest idea of what it's all about," said Harry Markson, the Garden's boxing director. "Nobody in our office has been served.

The New York Athletic Commission declined comment on the reports.

Dr. Kazuo Yanagisawa, an orthopedic specialist who set the hand, said it will take from three to four months to heal.

This will put off Benvenuti's next title defense. His six months period of grace to defend the 160-pound division title expires on June 14. The World Boxing Association insists he must defend it next against Luis Rodriguez, the WBA's No. 1 contender.

"It will probably be against Rodriguez," said Nino, "but it can't be for some time now."

Previously one of the fighters originally scheduled to fight on the Monday night card was arrested.

Frankie DePaula and his manager, Gary Garafola, both of Jersey City, N.J., were arrested by the FBI a week ago on charges of stealing $80,000 worth of copper from interstate shipments.

Bills' Owner Says He'll 'Consider' Trading O. J.

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP) — Buffalo Bills' owner Ralph C. Wilson Jr., deadlocked with O. J. Simpson over money, said Tuesday he would consider trading the All-American running back from the American Football League team.

"I said I would consider it," Wilson said of a request by Simpson and his negotiators that the 1968 Heisman Trophy winner from Southern California be traded.

Wilson added, however, "I don't know how seriously but I will give it some thought."

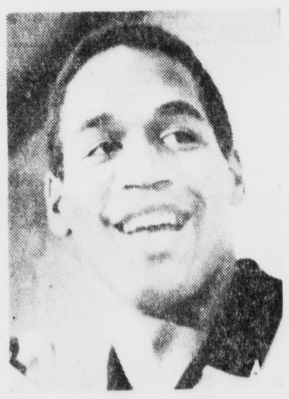
Wilson met Monday in Detroit with Simpson, his agent, Chuck Barnes, and his lawyer, David Lockton.

Simpson, who reportedly seeks a $600,000 salary from the Bills, dropped his demand for a $500,000 loan but asked for an additional $50,000 in bonus and salary. Wilson said in a statement released Tuesday by his office here.

He said he rejected the request, describing it as unreasonable.

"Up until then I was prepared to raise the price I had previously offered," Wilson said. He never said how much he would pay Simpson.

Wilson said he did offer to pay Simpson "for performances, not promises."



O. J. . . . expensive man

He said, too, that when Simpson and his negotiators "decide to come down to a practical figure I will start to come up as I did Monday."

Buffalo had the first choice in the combined AFL-National Football League draft because of its 1-12-1 record — worst in professional football last season — and chose Simpson.

The Bills' No. 2 choice, All-American fullback Bill Enyart of Oregon State, signed his contract over the weekend.

Husker Coach Not Conceding

. . . HOPES NU CONTENDER

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Omaha — Three Big Eight football coaches, appearing here Tuesday for the Omaha premiere of the Big Eight Highlights Film, aren't ready to concede the league championship to Oklahoma as are some people.

"I don't think you can give the championship to Oklahoma, yet," Nebraska head coach Bob Devaney countered when asked by a writer, who he thought would finish second in the Big Eight this fall, the writer obviously conceding the title to Oklahoma.

"Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas look to me to be a toss-up at this point," he continued. "Although Kansas lost a lot of people, they have picked up a lot of people.

"And we hope we can be in there. If we can generate some offense, I think we'll be in that championship picture."

Kansas State coach Vince Gibson was high on Missouri as the titlist, pointing out, "I'll tell you, that Missouri has got some people they can put out in front of you.

"Colorado has got some good backs and if they get some good defensive play, they can be tough.

"Missouri and Oklahoma have got to be the people you've got to beat, but don't count Kansas out," the K-State coach continued.

"Missouri and Oklahoma have got to be the teams on top," Iowa State coach Johnny Majors agreed. "I hope Oklahoma and Kansas, co-champions last year, aren't improved, but I think everyone else in the league will be."

Devaney said his staff was presently conducting a careful study of all spring scrimmage films in an effort to reach a decision to clear up the NU quarterback situation a bit.

"We're going over about eight films very careful to try to decide whether to leave Frank Patrick at quarterback or try him somewhere else in the fall," he said. "Sophomores Van Brownson and Jerry Tagge are definitely in the quarterback picture and Tony Dvorsak if his knee is sound in the fall."

Gibson spoke very optimistically of his Wildcat squad that is loaded with veterans.

"We feel our defense will be better," he began, "And we think our defensive secondary should be the most improved because all of our starters there were sophomores last season.

"All of our offensive line is back and it should be better. We feel that our biggest problem is developing a running game, which was just plain pitiful last season.

"We think we have a good running back in Russell Harrison if we coaches can get it out of him."

Gibson refused to put his club in the championship picture, however, but offered, "Our kids are looking forward to playing because they think they have a chance to win.

"When we came here, the kids used to joke about losing. There's no joking about losing any more. They think they can compete with anybody we play."

Majors expects a more experienced team this fall with his sophomores of a year ago having another year of seasoning.

"We'll be improved, but we have a big gap to make up," he said. "Our sophomores last season played with a lot of spirit and enthusiasm, but often that isn't enough to win in this league."

Colorado coach Eddie Crowder, who was supposed to be on the program, was delayed in Dallas and did not make it for the afternoon press session or the evening showing of the film and panel discussion, which drew a disappointing crowd of less than 200 here.

Victory, Loss Streaks Intact

. . . ASTROS, EXPOS

By Associated Press

The Houston Astros continued soaring and the Montreal Expos continued plummeting Tuesday night.

The Astros extended their winning streak to nine games, defeating Philadelphia 6-2 on Doug Rader's grand slam home run in the ninth inning. The Expos, on the other hand, lost their 11th in a row, dropping a 5-3 decision to Los Angeles.

In other National League games, Atlanta trimmed St. Louis 5-3 and San Diego topped the New York Mets 3-2.

In the American League, Washington downed Minnesota 5-1, the New York Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-3 and Kansas City nipped Boston 5-4.

The Astros, who have won 18 out of 22 games in May, tied San Francisco for the longest win streak in the majors this seasons.

Rader connected off Luis Pereaza after Bill Wilson walked the first two batters in the ninth, advanced them with a wild pitch and then loaded the bases with an intentional walk. Denis Menke had tied the game for Houston in the seventh with a homer.

A home run also beat Montreal. Tom Haller connected with one on in the sixth, snapping a 3-3 tie. The Expos had tied the game with three unearned runs off Dodgers starter Bill Singer in the fifth.

Felipe Alou sparked Atlanta past St. Louis. Alou singled across a run and scored himself in the third, then ignited a two-run rally in the fifth with another single.

The Mets battered San Diego's Al Santorini for 12 hits, but they also left 11 runners on base. Ollie Brown, meanwhile, drove in two Padre runs with a homer and a single.

Brant Alyea provided the power in Washington's triumph over Minnesota, driving in three runs with a homer and a single. The victory halted the Senators' losing streak at six.

Mel Stottlemyre made himself the first eight-game winner in the majors when he clouted a tie-breaking, two-run homer with two out in the eighth inning against the White Sox. The Yankee pitcher scattered seven hits.

In another late-inning finish, Kansas City edged Boston on a two-run single by Jackie Hernandez in the seventh. The hit capped a three-run rally.

On the West Coast Lou Johnson looped a tie-breaking seventh-inning single and California nipped Cleveland, 2-1, ending the Angels' 10-game losing streak in their first game under new manager Lefty Phillips . . .

Oakland edged Detroit 4-3 while Baltimore was at Seattle and Chicago at San Francisco in other coast games.

Husker Jarmon Is Arraigned On Check Charge

Sherwin Jarmon, a standout defensive end on the University of Nebraska football team, was arraigned in Lancaster County District Court Tuesday on a charge of possessing a forged check.

Jarmon, 21, was arrested in Lincoln Monday while allegedly attempting to cash a forged check made out for $45, police said.

He entered no plea in the case and a preliminary hearing was set for June 11. Jarmon then was released on $2,500 bond.

The 200-pound junior from Detroit, Mich., started at the right end spot last fall and was being counted on as a mainstay of next fall's Cornhusker defense.

Blanda Perfect

Oakland's George Blanda booted 54 conversions on 54 attempts during the 1963 American Football League season.

Smith Gains Tennis Upset

. . . YANKS CONTINUE TO FLEX MUSCLES IN FRENCH OPEN

Paris (AP) — Stan Smith, ering U.S. Davis Cup ace, ht back from near defeat sday and upset Boro novic of Yugoslavia in nost dramatic match so n the French Open Tennis npionships.

wn two sets and trailing, n the third, the 6-foot-4 gian from the University uthern California rallied 3-6, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4 triumph one of the top players in urnament.

joined two other ican men, pro Marty sen of Evanston, Ill., and g Zan Guerry of Lookout ntain, Tenn., and a trio of ladies — defending npion Nancy Richey of s, Julie Heldman of New , and Peaches Bartkowicz ., Hamtramck, Mich. — in advancing to the second round.

Four American men and five women won first round matches Monday on the Roland Garros clay courts in this second of four major championships constituting the Grand Slam. The others are the Australian, held in January, Wimbledon and U.S. at Forest Hills. First prize here for the men is $7,000.

Smith appeared hopelessly beaten after 1½ hours of play. But in the sixth game of the third set — two games from elimination — the fair-haired Californian changed tactics and began playing boldly.

"In those first two sets, Boro hardly made a mistake," Smith said afterward. "I realized I had to be bold and go for him. I began anticipating his cross-court shots, and it worked.

Riessen crushed Bernard Montrenaud of France 6-4, 6-0, 6-0. Guerry rallied from down two sets to one for a 6-0, 2-6, 1-6, 6-2, 8-6 victory over Hans-Joachim Plotz of West Germany.

Miss Richey beat Karen Krantzcke, the statuesque Australian, 11-9, 6-0 after almost letting the first set get away. Miss Heldman, recent winner of the Italian title, eliminated Janet Young of Australia 6-0, 6-2. Miss Bartkowicz beat Lita Leim of Indonesia 6-1, 6-1.

Mrs. Margaret Court of Australia and Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones of Britain, two other favorites, advanced easily. The left-handed Mrs. Jones, a pro, defeated Kristy Pigeon of Danville, Calif., 6-2, 6-0.

Two U.S. men's casualties were Tom Gorman of Seattle, beaten by Istvan Gulyas of Hungary 6-3, 5-7, 6-1, 8-6, and the veteran Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn, N.Y., put out by Bob Hewitt of South Africa 8-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Hewitt appeared on the scene with a blackened eye, the result of his now celebrated fist fight with Britain's Roger Taylor in the dressing room after a match in Berlin last Saturday. Taylor, his left arm in a sling because of an injured racket hand, defaulted. He asked for a postponement of his first round match, which was denied.

Brabham Back At Indy Again

. . . FIRST '500' SINCE '64

Indianapolis, Ind. (AP) — Jack Brabham, who began the rear-engine car revolution at the Indianapolis 500 eight years ago, is near the far end of the first all rear-engine starting field in the race's history.

The 43-year-old Australian, will be the oldest driver in Friday's race. He is making his first Indy start since 1964 when he finished 20th.

Brabham entered two of his Repco-Brabham cars this year and Sunday qualified one in 29th place. Rookie Peter Revson of New York City qualified the other last in the field of 33. Brabham said he is not reluctant about a comeback driving attempt after four years away from the 500.

Also, like most European drivers, his opinion is that "this is not a particularly difficult track."

Brabham is a three-time world champion of Grand Prix racing and still is one of the top drivers on the circuit.

Rear-engine cars had appeared at Indianapolis before Brabham arrived in 1961 but they had not been successful. He drove his Cooper-Climax to a ninth place finish in 1961.

And when the British-made Lotus-Fords appeared a few years later, someone made this remark in reference to the front-engine roadsters: "Gentlemen, you're looking at a million dollars worth of obsolete equipment."

The last front-engine car to win the race was one driven by A. J. Foyt in 1964, the second of the Texan's three Indianapolis victories.

This year, Brabham's cars are the only ones in the field equipped with self starters. Pit crews have to start the other cars with portable battery units.

Brabham's only entry last year, driven by Jochen Rindt of Austria, finished 32nd, burning out a piston on the fifth lap.

Brabham is one of five drivers in this year's race over 40. Art Pollard of Medford, Ore., is 42 and Jim McElreath of Arlington, Tex., Bud Tingelstad of Speedway, Ind., and Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., are all 41.

Swim Champions Luedke, Rensch Sign NU Letters

Nebraska state swim champions Dick Rensch and Spencer Luedke and out-of-state standouts Robert O'Donnell and Jim Pratt have signed national letters of intent to attend the University of Nebraska.

Cornhusker coach John Reta indicates that the four will lend balance and depth to the NU sqad.

Rensch, from Creighton Prep, is a three-time champion in the 100-yard butterfly. He set new state marks in the event with all three titles.

Luedke is a two-time 400-yard freestyle champion and record holder from Lincoln High.

O'Donnell, a breaststroker, is from Chicago's Brother Rice H.S. and Pratt, a distance freestyler, is from Ames, Iowa.

All The Way

Noland Smith of Kansas City holds the American Football League's punt return record, running back a punt 106 yards in a game against Denver in 1967.

Belmont Favorites Drill Well

New York (AP) — Majestic Prince and Arts and Letters, who are expected to renew their Kentucky Derby and Preakness rivalry in the Belmont Stakes June 7, each turned in sharp workouts over the Belmont strip Tuesday.

Majestic Prince, who beat Arts and Letters by a neck in the Derby and a head in the Preakness, worked five furlongs in 58 2-5 seconds and galloped out an extra furlong.

"It was a real good work," said trainer Johnny Longden who was up on the unbeaten colt. "I took him out another furlong and he was full of run." Clockers said the six furlongs time was 1:11 1-5.

Arts and Letters zipped six furlongs in 1:10 2-5 and galloped out two more furlongs. He was caught in 1:23 1-5 for the seven furlongs and 1:37 for the mile.

Frank McMahon, owner of Majestic Prince, watched his colt work and smiled when Longden told him "he was just breezing when he pulled up at three-quarters."

Longden said he planned to merely walk Majestic Prince Wednesday, but "early next week I expect to work Prince a mile and an eighth." The Belmont is at 1½ miles.

Carlos May Putting Zing In White Sox

. . . ENDS 'GRASS WATCHING'

Chicago (AP) — This season you can't say that watching the Chicago White Sox play is like watching grass grow.

In the first place grass doesn't grow in their infield, which is artificial. In the second place there's Carlos May, a strapping, 215-pound rookie.

May is leading the Sox to the land of excitement with a stinging bat that has produced a .313 average, 73 total bases, 23 RBI's and, foremost, 10 home runs.

The homer-starved Sox think their new left fielder is a cinch to set a homer record for the club this season. He hasn't far to go. Eddie Robinson in 1950 and Gus Zernial in 1951 each hit 29 homers, the high.

May is a quiet, confident fledgling who just turned 21. When he was a tyke in Birmingham, Ala., his mother pitched batting practice for him and his older brother, Lee; the Cincinnati Reds first baseman.

And one season at Parker High School, Carlos batted .735, as well as making All-State fullback in football.

Sox scout Sam Hairston got on Carlos' trail, but the club nearly missed getting him. When he got out of high school at least a dozen teams had a shot at him in the baseball draft before the Sox got their first round turn and tagged him.

Carlos batted .338 at Appleton, Wis., and .330 at Lynchburg, Va., the last two years while the Sox licked their chops awaiting his big league arrival.

"He's the kind of hitter who swings free and might hit the ball anywhere," says manager Don Gutteridge.

Carlos says it doesn't make any difference to him who's pitching — a lefty or righty. He is hitting .290 against the southpaws and .317 against the others.

"Fastballs, curves, sliders and knuckleballs — that's what I like best," says Carlos. "I like the pitching up here better than in the minors. These guys know where they're throwing and down there the ball could come at your head or anywhere — they didn't know where it was going."

Carlos has a strong arm and his play in the outiield is improving.

"I spent more time working in the outfield than I did at the plate in the rookie league this spring," he says.

S. Carolina Jury Finds Nine Troopers Innocent

Florence, S.C. (AP) — A biracial jury quickly found nine white South Carolina highway patrolmen innocent Tuesday of civil rights violations in the shooting of 30 young Negroes, including three who died in Orangeburg last year.

The jurors, including two Negroes, deliberated one hour and 29 minutes. They had to consider the case of each of the nine defendants separately.

The defendants sat impassively as the clerk began reading the verdict individually for each one, but each appeared to relax as his name was called and the clerk intoned, "not guilty."

Court Warned

U.S. District Judge Robert Martin Jr. had warned the courtroom against emotional demonstrations when the verdicts were read.

He said, "You can go to your homes and laugh or cry but there will be no demonstrations in this courtroom."

Killed during the Orangeburg confrontation were Delano Middleton, 17, an Orangeburg high school pupil, and South Carolina State students Henry Smith, 19, of Marion and Samuel Hammond, 20, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

After Shooting

The troopers — one a former patrolman and the others still on the force — were charged by the U.S. Justice Department after the Feb. 8, 1968, shooting near the campus of South Carolina State College.

That incident, known in civil rights circles as the "Orangeburg Massacre," climaxed four nights of racial disturbances started by the refusal of a bowling alley to serve Negroes. In the shooting, 27 Negro students also were wounded.

The troopers were charged under an 1870 civil rights law designed to protect newly freed slaves.

Dr. A. C. Barry, Longtime Norfolk Physician, Dies

Norfolk (AP) — Funeral services are pending here for a longtime Norfolk physician and surgeon, Dr. A. C. Barry, who died Monday night in a Norfolk hospital at the age of 81.

A 1915 graduate of the University of Nebraska Medical School, Dr. Barry had practiced in Norfolk more than 50 years before his retirement only a few years ago.

Prior to establishing practice in Norfolk, he had served in the armed services in World War I and had served the Tilden community.

Survivors include his wife and four children.

Allan Lockheed Dies At Age 80

Tucson, Ariz. (UPI) — Allan Haines Lockheed, founder of the huge aerospace company, died Monday night in a Tucson hospital at age 80.

He was born to a couple named Loughhead but the name was later legally changed.

A California farm boy without even a high school education, Lockheed taught himself to fly and designed some of the early airplanes. In 1926 he formed the predecessor firm of the corporation that came to be known as Lockheed.

Lockheed left the corporation in 1929. In later years he was active in real estate in California and Arizona.

One Of 10 Most Wanted Fugitives Caught In Ohio

Washington (UPI) — The FBI announced that one of its 10 most wanted fugitives was arrested Tuesday as he left a motel in South Point, Ohio.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover identified him as George Edward Wells, 53, wanted in connection with the robbery and beating of an Ohio coin collector and a jewelry store robbery in the same state.

Brain Injuries Kill Jeffrey Hunter

Hollywood (AP) — Jeffrey Hunter, handsome and athletic movie leading man who portrayed Jesus Christ in the 1960 "King of Kings," died Tuesday after brain surgery for injuries police blamed on a fall. He was 42.

Officers said a friend found Hunter unconscious Monday, with a swollen right eye, at his suburban Van Nuys home. He succumbed at 9:30 a.m. at Valley Hospital.

Police were investigating circumstances of the injury.

The coroner said the cause of death would be determined by autopsy.

Hamburger Hill Battle Cost Life Of Pfc. Napier

Orchard (AP) — Mrs. Alberta Napier of Orchard has been informed by the Defense Department that her son, Pfc. Lee Napier, 21, has been killed in action in Vietnam.

Private Napier was a member of the Army Special Forces and had been in Vietnam since April 13. He had previously been reported missing in action on Hamburger Hill last Wednesday.

Private Napier had enlisted in the Army in February, 1968.

Besides his mother, survivors include three sisters.

Murphy, Hassett Named Assistants

Omaha (UPI) — Mayor Eugene A. Leahy Tuesday named County Commissioner James Murphy and former Douglas County Election Commissioner Jerry Hassett as his administrative assistants.

Murphy, 40, will resign from the County Board. He will be paid $19,000 a year in his new post.

Hassett, 50, has resigned as managing director of the governmental affairs and education councils for the chamber. He will be paid $16,500.

Forest Park Opens

Belfast, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland's third forest park has opened — a 1,000-acre site in the Mourne Mountains, County Down, including woodland walks, a trout lake and a pony trail.

Market Drops On Broad Front

New York (AP) — The stock market retreated on a broad front Tuesday as brokers reported continuing concern among investors about tight money.

"Many appear to be concerned about the possibility of another boost in the prime lending rate" from its present historic high of 7½%, an analyst said, as well as by "the possibility of a credit crunch."

He added that the "apparent lack of favorable Vietnam peace news seems to have put the Vietnam situation on the back burner for a while and turned investor attention more to the economic and monetary areas."

Brokers said some of the session's selling pressure apparently came from "renewed fears about monetary restraint." They said some selling also resulted when the Dow Jones industrial average fell below 940, which some technicians regard as a support level.

The Dow industrial dipped 8.28 to 938.66, the lowest it has been since April 29 when it closed at 934.10. The Dow was off 0.51 Monday.

Los s led gains from the start and widened the margin as trading progressed. Of 1,594 issues traded, 942 declined, and 378 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 28 and new lows 98.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 10.58 million shares, compared with 9.03 million Monday.

The New York exchange index of some 1,200 common stocks was off 0.46 at 57.90.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 1.9 at 334.7, with industrials off 4.1, rails off .9, and utilities unchanged.

Conglomerate issues generally were lower, with AMK Corp., Ling-Temco-Vought, and Loew's Theaters all off a point or more.

Steels, aircrafts, and electronics all had a lower tone, as did motors, with Ford Motor down 1.

Among higher priced issues, IBM was off 4¾; Control Data, off 2⅜; and Xerox, off 3⅞.

Airlines generally were higher, with Eastern and United each up more than a point.

Blocks of 10,000 shares or more traded totaled 68, compared with 37 Monday.

Prices generally were lower on the American Stock Exchange.

The Amex index dipped 18 cents to $30.90. Volume was 4.85 million shares, compared with 4.93 million Monday.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Executives Use Foresight In Money Commitments

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

MERRYLE RUKEYSER
High Cost Of Money

Racetracks don't accept bets after the horses have crossed the finish line.

The struggle for success inheres in trying to make one's foresight approach one's hindsight.

To be specific, financial management of great corporations centers around policy in developing a balance between equity (stock) and debt (bond) financing. Other sophisticated forecasts are needed as to the length of bond maturities. If managing directors of the great public utility enterprises could reopen the past and remake decisions, they would take much longer maturities on bond issues which were floated when interest rates, now at or near an all-time high, were much lower.

Accordingly, the basic economics of the utilities is today affected by the abnormally high cost of new money obtained through borrowing, and by the prospect that outstanding bond issues will have to be refinanced when they mature doubtless at substantially higher rates. This prospect, if it eventuates, will slow up the rate of growth on electric utility earnings available for the common shares.

Similarly ultra conservative investors in commercial real estate took pride in being free of mortgage obligations. These owners argued that: "If necessary, we can always raise cash by creating a mortgage on the property." This overlooked the drastic change in the cost of borrowing.

Ahead Of Need

Highly sophisticated corporate managers try to exercise foresight in money commitments. Even when there is little or no need of borrowing, they are active in maintaining good relations with money lenders, and they definitely seek lines of credit ahead of needs.

Financial executives "buy" money through unneeded borrowing when terms seem attractive when they anticipate a future adverse change in interest rates.

Every so often, analysts take a look at the market prices to ascertain whether known and likely factors have been discounted. For four years the stock market has taken a dim view of electric utility stocks, despite their impressive long term growth at a rate of 7% to 8% annually, with gains at about double that of the national economy as a whole. Instead, the market has associated electric utilities with money rates.

In addition, pessimism grew out of the fact that there is a time lag in a regulated industry between an inflation of costs and authority from the public service commissions to raise rates.

Out Of Line

As a result, electric utilities, which actually rose in total volume of current sold during the five slowdowns in the national economy since the end of World War II, are out of line with other securities. It remains to be seen whether those who dumped the utilities to buy high price-earnings glamor stocks in unseasoned ventures were astute.

Being a highly automated industry, the electric utilities have kept the ratio of labor payments to tatal expenses at 14%, compared to 28% for industry generally.

Earnings per share of an index of 24 electric power stocks have risen at a compound annual rate of 6% since 1953, against an increment of 5.1% for the Dow Jones 30 industrial stocks. After averaging annual profit growth of 8% yearly in 1962-65, inflation of costs and higher interest charges reduced the rate of profit improvement in the past three years.

In an impartial review, David L. Babson & Company concluded: "Future earnings progress may be no better than 5% on average. Some companies serving faster growing territories should be able to post more favorable gains . . . The price earnings ratios of utilities relative to industrials are about as low as they have been in history and the two groups is the widest in 20 years." For example, in 1968, 24 electric utility stocks had a price-earnings ratio of 14.6, which constituted only 88% of the price-earnings ratio of the Dow Jones industrial stocks, and the utilities showed an average yield of 4.6%, which represented 40% more than the yield on 30 industrials.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped self addressed envelopes should be sent in care of this newspaper. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

South American Nations Sign Trade Agreement

© New York Times Service

Bogota, Colombia — Five South American nations — Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru — have formally joined in an association intended to develop into an Andean common market.

The agreement signed at a ceremony in the Palace of San Carlos calls for all internal tariffs between the five republics to be abolished within 11 years. The group will adopt a common tariff scale for its foreign commerce.

It is estimated that the five nations have commerce with the United States totalling about $2.5 billion yearly.

Venezuela was absent from the signing Monday night. Venezuela, the world's largest exporter of petroleum, took part in the 33 months of negotiations that resulted in the pact, but that country's private sector finally managed to veto the common market proposal in its current form.

The treaty was drafted at a three-week conference at the Colombian port city of Cartagena. The delegates moved to Bogota for the signing in a ceremony attended by President Carlos Lleras Restrepo.

If the common market serves its intended purpose, a large part of the five countries' imports from the United States will be replaced with purchases made among the nations.

Fire Traps Commuters In Tunnel

New York (AP) — A smokey, flash fire disabled a Penn Central railroad train Tuesday, trapping 200 commuters deep in a tunnel under the Hudson River. One man was reported killed and 92 persons were injured.

The passengers, trapped momentarily in the darkened and smoke-clogged tunnel, flung open windows and doors and leaped to the ground. They groped cautiously on catwalks — some for as long as 40 minutes — to the New Jersey side of the tunnel.

Deputy Police Chief Patrick Henry of North Bergern, N.J., identified the dead man as Will J. Thompson, 63, of Rahway, N.J., a railroad conductor on sick leave, who was riding as a passenger.

ROBERT ROBERTS

Roberts Is Commander

Robert Roberts was installed as commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 131 Tuesday evening. He succeeds Robert W. Stern Sr. as commander.

Other officers, all from Lincoln, installed were: Denzel Dawson, senior vice commander; GeorgeSlama, junior vice commander; Dee Stults, quartermaster; Jim Kirk, advocate; Father Stanley Redmerski, chaplain; Dr. John Curry, surgeon; Roth Carveth, adjutant; Ron Olson, officer of the day; Kenneth Leland, legislative officer; Nathen Grossman, hospital chairman; Leonard Owen, historian, and Charles Vosta, guard.

Bud Gibson, Ralph Sarthoff, and Stern were elected to serve as trustees for one, two, and three years respectively.

Methodists To Specify Benefits

Methodist clergy and laymen from across the state will name the projects to benefit from the denomination's Fund for Reconciliation at the 109th session of the Nebraska Conference of the United Methodist Church when it meets in Omaha June 2-4.

The fund is a part of a nationwide goal to raise $20 million to be used in the cause of reconciling various groups. Nebraska Methodists will be asked to accept $400,000 as their goal of the total fund. One half of the money raised in the state will go for Nebraska projects and the other half will go for national projects.

Some of the projects to be recommended to the members of the conference are: ministries with Indians, $20,000; day care scholarships and financial planning training in Omaha, $11,000; Operation Crossroads, Nebraska Wesleyan University, $5,000; day care center and work with ethnic groups in Lincoln, $5,000; day care center for working mothers in Winnebago, $6,000; home for alleged youth offenders pending and during court appearance, Scottsbluff, $2,500, and support of a minority radio station in Omaha, $1,000.

Approximately 800 delegates and visitors will attend the conference which will be presided over by Bishop Noah W. Moore Jr. of Lincoln, resident United Methodist bishop in Nebraska.

Other items for consideration by the body will be Project Equality and the 1970 budgets.

Budgets for the coming year total $2,187,466 as compared to a total asking of $2,015,050 in 1969.

Project Equality, which was approved by conference members in 1968, will be discussed when it is proposed that the Nebraska conference become a paying member of the organization.

The purpose of the program is to "support and encourage those employers who hire workers according to ability and do not hire or fire because of racial consideration."

Ministerial assignments will be announced during closing business Thursday afternoon.

British Protest Oil On Beaches

© New York Times Service

London — The pollution of five miles of British beach resorts by an oil slick during the Whitsun weekend stirred a public outcry and call for government action.

The incident aroused particular indignation since the pollution resulted not from an oil tanker wreck, such as that of the Torrey Canyon two years ago, but from the presumably operational discharge of oil sludge from an emptied tanker, as yet unidentified.

CERTIFIED LABORATORIES, INC.
A BIG TIME COMPANY
With a Small Time Philosophy

We're a 50 year old, AAA-1 manufacturer of nontechnical industrial products, with young ideas and a record of dynamic growth.
The man we seek has the willingness and the ability to work hard to make an excellent income now, and a larger one each succeeding year.
Many of our salesmen who have been with the Company one year and longer realize an income of $18,000 to $30,000 a year. Men with the Company, in their first year, earn between $12,000 and $18,000 a year.
Our men work on a guaranteed draw against high commissions—in addition to full Company benefits.
We'll tell you about our Company, show you our Annual Report, answer any questions you may have about us, and explain the opportunity we offer in sales.
Sound Interesting? We believe it should. If you want income, security, opportunity, limited travel and time to spend with your family:

Call St. Louis, Mo., station-to-station, collect Wednesday, May 28 or Thursday, May 29, 9:00AM to 5:00PM 314-727-6546.

GIs Abandon Controversial Mountain

Saigon (AP) — American paratroopers Wednesday abandoned Dong Ap Bia, a 3,000-foot mountain they seized a week ago in a battle that touched off a storm of controversy.

Troopers of the 101st Airborne Division seized the mountain May 20 after 10 days of bloody fighting that cost 50 Americans killed and 300 wounded.

The American casualties stirred criticism of the assault in Congress, but the U.S. Command claimed it was a "fine operation" with more than 600 North Vietnamese soldiers killed.

Military spokesmen said the final command elements of one battalion of the 101st Division began moving off the shell-scarred mountain at first light Wednesday.

3 Wounded

Earlier, at dusk Tuesday, North Vietnamese gunners slammed a dozen mortar rounds into the command post on the mountain, slightly wounding three paratroopers.

The paratroopers "have completed their search of the mountain and now are continuing their reconnaissance in force mission through the A Shaw Valley," a spokesman for the 101st Airborne Division said.

One U.S. officer had commented Tuesday, "We feel we've gotten everything out of this mountain that we're going to get."

U.S. commanders do not like to occupy hills that are hard to supply and reinforce, as is the case with Ap Bia, in far northern South Vietnam only two miles from a North Vietnamese buildup area across the border in Laos.

After 11 Assaults

Three battalions of U.S. paratroopers and a battalion of South Vietnamese infantrymen, more than 1,000 troops in all, seized Ap Bia after 11 separate assaults. The mountain fortress is honeycombed with tunnels, bunkers and gun emplacements.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., claimed such assaults were "senseless and irresponsible." He said American lives are too valuable to be sacrificed for "military pride."

The commander of the operation, Maj. Gen. Melvin Zais, said the battle was fought not for pride but because the North Vietnamese were there and his mission was "to destroy the enemy forces and installations." Other military spokesmen said the enemy buildup in the area was a menace to Hue, 30 miles to the northeast.

Irma Wickstrom, Beauty Supply Cofounder, Dies

Mrs. George (Irma) Wickstrom, 68, 1201 J, cofounder of Wickstrom Beauty Supply, died Tuesday in Inglewood, Calif.

Mrs. Wickstrom was a resident of Lincoln for 34 years. She was born in David City and was a member of St. Paul Methodist Church in Lincoln.

Survivors include her husband, George, and two sisters.

Lincoln Woman Falls, Cuts Head

A 53-year-old Lincoln woman suffered serious injuries Tuesday evening when she fell on the sidewalk at 14th and R.

Esther Patterson, 138 No. 30th, was taken to Lincoln General Hospital where she was treated for a serious cut on her temple, caused by her earring, and a fractured right arm. Hospital authorities said she was in "fair" condition.

Several college students from the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity administered first aid and kept a pressure bandage on Mrs. Patterson's temple until the ambulance arrived, police said.

Indian Suspense Movie Scheduled
